About the Author, David Michael Curtis (1974-Present)

I am a sinner saved by God's grace. I have been baptized, and I confess that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. I trust in Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of my sins and the gift of eternal life.

I was born in Roseburg, Oregon. I became a Christian at age 19 in 1993. Over the next seven years, I wore out the bindings of eleven KJV Bibles. Using my own money, I conducted my first evangelistic crusade in 1999. I taught the Bible on the radio five days a week on K.O.R.E. Springfield, OR (2000-2002). I sold KJV Bibles and children's character-building books door to door in Washington, Oregon, California, Texas, Kansas, Georgia, Tennessee, and New York (1999-2007).

I was a volunteer chaplain for a maximum-security prison in Northern California (2005-2007). Since 2001, I have owned/managed 75+ Christian websites. From 2008 to 2010, I was the General Manager for Harvestime Books (an international Christian publishing house). I have also served the church as an elder, a new believer's class teacher, and a vacation Bible school teacher.

A Helpful Illustration Describing this Topical Bible Study eBook

The tallest trees in the world are the Redwoods in Northern California. The Redwoods share a single network of roots; this root system connects all the Redwoods trees. This means the Redwoods Forest is also the largest single-living organism in the world.

Imagine that each doctrine of the Bible is a giant Redwood tree supported by 30-40 roots (Bible verses). Examine the neighboring doctrines that share a root system (Bible verses) with that doctrine. Understand that under its surface, all the doctrines are connected by one massive root system within the Bible. My books show how the various doctrines interconnect and share the same roots, supporting and depending on each other.

My books use the Bible as its own interpreter, providing all the verses on whichever doctrine is being studied, topically arranged, without commentary. Christ is the only Teacher you need. He promised that you would know the truth, and the truth would set you free.

Who do you think you are? How Dare you write this book?

Sadly, for 17 years, I was in a Christian cult: Four generations of my family have been members of the Seventh-Day Adventist church. Both sides of my family tree have built Seventh-Day Adventist churches. One is in Susanville, CA (built by Grandpa Curtis), and the other is in San Luis Obispo, CA (built by Grandpa Harper).

After discovering that my family's generational beliefs were unbiblical, I re-evaluated everything I believed forty hours a week for eighteen months. After 300+ Bible studies and writing articles for each of them, I renounced my membership in the Susanville, CA Seventh-Day Adventist church in 2011, where I had been ordained as an elder and where all my uncles and cousins had attended for decades.

I had formerly been taught to believe that the Seventh-Day Adventist church was the 'remnant church.' So, after 2011, I embarked on a decade-long search to find the 'real church.' I took this search seriously. My research into each denominational church led to shocking conclusions. Although each church, at its core, taught the gospel, and 99% of each church's teachings were wholesome and good, they also contained what the Bible warned as 'doctrines of devils.'

Everyone is aware of this problem, realizing there are doctrinal differences within the denominational churches. Still, they dismiss them as secondary doctrines that are not salvational issues that should be overlooked. In the name of unity, they preach, "Let's look past our differences and unite on Christ!"

Do not be deceived; there are no secondary doctrines. There is the truth, and there are counterfeits that the Bible calls 'doctrines of devils.' Jesus warned us to beware of false prophets and to beware of the leaven (the doctrines) of the religious leaders. Paul warned that a little leaven leavens the whole lump.

My decade-long journey of examining one church after another led me to conclude that each church had corrupt doctrines that rendered the gospel it professed to believe void. I treasure the gospel. My church had not taught it to me; I had to search for it for many years. I was not about to diminish the gospels' worth by passively sitting in a pew listening to ministers preach errors and condoning their teachings by paying them to preach them. I tried visiting several churches, but each time they taught things I knew were unbiblical, it drove me nuts; I couldn't listen to it.

I have written over six dozen topical Bible study eBooks, trying to convey what I have learned. All of them can be summarized in one sentence:

The only gospel that can save us on Judgment Day requires 1. faith, 2. repentance, and 3. baptism, and all denominational churches have divergent doctrines that undermine one or more of these three essential doctrines of the faith once delivered to the saints.

House churches are the only example of churches in the Bible.

Today, I do not identify with any church denomination. Why not? House churches are the only example of churches in the Bible. So, I will not be trying to convince you to jump out of one church denomination into another. I equally reject them all. Today, I'm a KJV Christian, nothing more and nothing less. This means my beliefs can be held accountable or challenged by anyone from any church, so long as they use the KJV Bible as their only evidence to try to persuade me.

But you must know the rules that I play by; otherwise, you won't be able to convince me to change my mind. So let me be more specific: Doctrinally speaking, I am a Topical Bible Student who uses the KJV Bible. In other words,

I must have all the verses on the topic before me and must-see harmony throughout all of those verses before reaching my conclusions.

So here are the rules:

1. No Appeals to Authority:

I do not care what the Watch Tower Society (Jehovah's Witnesses) teaches any more than I care about Ellen G. White (Seventh-day Adventists), Joseph Smith (Mormons), or the Pope (Roman Catholicism). I equally reject them all. I only regard the Holy KJV Bible as the Word of God. So, quoting anything outside the KJV Bible will be useless in terms of persuading me. Consider this a common sanctuary for us both because I will not use anything other than my KJV Bible to try to persuade you, too. The Protestant Reformation called this "Scripture Alone."

The over 700 topics explored within my books and documents available on the "Topical Bible Studies (KJV)" on Google Drive present every scripture in the Bible on each topic. As Christ's disciples, we must submit to the authority of the Holy Bible rather than to human authority when they are not in agreement. During Christ's temptation in the wilderness, Jesus said we must live by every word of God. Paul refers to this as putting on the full armor of God.

Before reaching any conclusions, we must examine all the verses on the topic and find harmony throughout them.

2. No either-or fallacies.

3. No cherry-picking.

The 'either-or logical fallacy' Pits One Doctrine Against Another.

Jehovah's Witnesses denial of Christ's deity pits Doctrine #1 against Doctrine #2

Doctrine #1: The Human Nature of Christ

Matthew 1:1-17; Romans 1:3-4; Hebrews 4:15; 1 Timothy 2:5; Hebrews 2:17; Galatians 4:4-5; 1 Corinthians 15:21; Romans 6:15,19; Matthew 1:18; Luke 1:31; Matthew 1:16; 2:2; Luke 2:7,11; John 1:14; Hebrews 2:14; Matthew 26:38; Luke 23:46; Acts 2:31; Luke 2:21,52; 19:41; John 11:35; Matthew 4:2; 21:18; John 4:7; 19:28; Matthew 8:24; Mark 4:38; John 4:6; Isaiah 53:3-4; Matthew 26:67; Luke 22:64; 23:11; Matthew 27:26; John 19:1; Psalm 22:16; Luke 23:33; John 19:30,34; Matthew 27:59-60; Acts 3:15; 2 Timothy 2:8; Acts 3:22; Philippians 2:7-8; Hebrews 7:26,28; 1 John 3:5; 1 Peter 2:22; Hebrews 4:15; John 18:38; 8:46; Luke 24:39; John 20:27; 1 John 1:1-2; Genesis 3:15; Isaiah 7:14; Jeremiah 31:22; Luke 1:31; Galatians 4:4; Genesis 22:18; Galatians 3:16; Hebrews 2:16; 2 Samuel 7:12,16; Mark 10:47; Acts 2:30; 13:23; Romans 1:3; Matthew 8:20; 16:13; John 4:2; Mark 6:3; John 7:27; 19:5; Acts 2:22; 1 John 4:3; 2 John 7

All Christians affirm the human nature of Christ and always have acknowledged the human nature of Christ. So, imagine a team of Jehovah's Witnesses in my living room, turning the pages of their fake New World Translation bibles and encouraging me to look at each of them. Well, my response to each verse is Amen! I believe the verses the Jehovah's Witnesses desperately want to bring to my attention. Why? I affirm that Christ was 100% human! Amen!

However, the humanity of Christ does not cancel or make void everything else the Bible teaches about Christ. Such an absurd conclusion, asserted by the Jehovah's Witnesses, is an 'either-or logical fallacy.' It's a clever trick used by Jehovah's Witnesses from house to house for more than a century, but that is all that it is. It is a magician's trick.

It is not truly a Bible study. Rather, it is a method used to trick you into doubting what the Bible says about the other doctrines concerning Christ. I remind the reader that unbelief in Christ will cause you to forfeit eternal life. This book will present every verse on the various topics it presents. This is not an either-or scenario. We must believe everything the Bible teaches. Do not try to interpret the Bible; rather, read the Holy Bible like a child, with the goal of believing everything it says.

Cherry Picking Fallacy, the Fallacy of Incomplete Evidence.

The Cherry Picking Fallacy, also known as the fallacy of incomplete evidence, occurs when someone selectively presents individual cases or data that seem to confirm a particular position while ignoring a significant portion of related and similar cases or data that may contradict that position. Below is an example of the Cherry Picking Fallacy,

A very popular belief in Christianity is based on Incomplete Evidence.

2 Corinthians 5:6-8; Philippians 1:23; Luke 16:22-24; 23:43

Here are all the verses in the Bible on the same topic.

Genesis 2:7; 3:4; 25:8; Exodus 7:11; Deuteronomy 31:16; 1 Samuel 28:3-25; 1 Kings 2:10; 11:21,43; 14:20,31; 15:8,24; 16:6,28; 22:40,50; 2 Kings 8:24; 10:35; 13:9,13; 14:16,21-22,29; 15:7,22,38; 16:20; 20:21; 21:18; 24:6; Job 4:17; 14:12,21; 17:13; 27:3; Psalm 115:17; 146:4; Ecclesiastes 9:5-6,10; 12:7; Ezekiel 18:20; Daniel 2:2; Matthew 9:24-25; 13:43; 22:30; Mark 5:39-42; 12:25; Luke 8:49-56; 20:36; John 5:28-29; 11:11-14,23,26-27,34,39,43-44; 20:17; Acts 2:29,34; 5:2,29; 16:16-18; 1 Corinthians 15:3-4,50-55; 2 Corinthians 5:1-8; Philippians 1:21-24; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18; 1 Timothy 6:15-16; 2 Timothy 4:6-8; James 2:26; 2 Peter 3:10; 1 John 3:2; Revelation 12:9; 16:3,14; 21:4; 22:12

It's the Holy Spirit's job to persuade.

It's the Holy Spirit's job to persuade. It's my job to present the case from Scripture. Work out your salvation with fear and trembling. If you choose to stop reading at this point, then I will kick the dust off my feet as a testimony against you on the day of Judgment. Sound harsh? This isn't a game. The Bible is a sharp two-edged sword. It divides everyone into two camps: the saved and the lost.

Jesus of the Holy Bible is the most loving person in human history, but he is also the most terrifying. Which do you want to meet with on the Great Day of God almighty? If you want His salvation and eternal life, you must believe in Him. The Holy Spirit will help you believe in him. Are you asking, "What must I do to be saved?"

Call out in the name of Jesus and confess that Jesus is the LORD.

God has people in every denominational church.

I believe God has people in the Roman Catholic, Seventh-day Adventist, Baptist, Methodist, and Pentecostal churches. Over the years, I have met some very good people who genuinely loved God and others in each of these churches who made very big impacts on my life.

My books examine these churches' doctrines, not the people who believe in them.

I was in a cult for 17 years. I know firsthand what it's like to believe a lie strongly. I am writing this book because if I were in the Seventh-Day Adventist church, which has a mixture of sound doctrine and doctrines of devils and couldn't distinguish which were which, I would wish someone had written this book for me. Starting on this page, it's between the Holy KJV Bible, you, and God. I hope we can meet in the New Jerusalem.

Sincerely,

David Michael Curtis

Debating Islam: Did Jesus Die on the Cross?—Part 1.

By David Michael Curtis.

The file "Debating Islam: Did Jesus Die on the Cross—Part 1" by David Michael Curtis discusses how to approach discussions with Muslims about the death of Jesus.

Here are the main points covered in the document:

- Approach to Debate: The author advises caution with debating, suggesting it's better to share faith if the other person is willing to listen. If not, it's best to walk away.
- Core Message: The focus should remain on the day Jesus stood trial and was crucified, and not be distracted by other arguments.
- Foundation of Argument: The argument for Jesus' death should be based on Old Testament prophecies, eyewitness testimony, and historical evidence of Christianity's rapid spread.
- Encounter with a Muslim: The document shares an anecdote about a conversation with a Muslim where the author discusses the core difference between Christianity and Islam: whether Jesus died on the cross.
- Evidence for Jesus' Death: The author presents three pieces of evidence:
 - The historical earthquake on April 1st, 33 AD, which is recorded both in the Bible and by geologists and historical accounts.
 - Historians outside the Bible attest to the darkness that occurred during Jesus' crucifixion.
 - Daniel's prophecy of the 70 weeks, which predicts the exact date of Jesus' death.
- Addressing Muslim Beliefs: The document also addresses the Muslim confession of faith and contrasts Jesus' testimony with Muhammad's.
- Emphasis on Prophecy: The author stresses the numerous prophecies in the Old Testament that Jesus fulfilled, confirming his identity.

In summary, the document provides a strategy and evidence for discussing Jesus's death with Muslims, focusing on historical and prophetic confirmations.

Dear friends,

Introduction to Debating Muslims.

Today, I'd like to discuss how to handle a debate with Muslims. Firstly, I don't believe Christians ought to debate. Debate is listed among the negative behaviors that Christians ought to avoid in Romans Chapter 1, which is a long list. Muslims in the modern age are trained apologists, and they are aggressive. They are skilled at causing unbelief, framing arguments that Christians are not skilled at answering.

How to Respond.

So today, I'm going to share with you how to respond if the person or group of people you're interacting with is willing to listen. If they won't listen, if they interrupt you, walk away. Jesus said, "If they will not hear you or your words, kick the dust off your feet." However, if they're willing to listen to your response and give you a fair time to share your faith, by all means, do so.

Stay Focused on the Core Message.

And I want you to keep your attention on your core message. Don't allow a Muslim or a group of Muslims to change your focus. No matter what arguments they bring up, stay focused on your core message. Make the entire matter about the day Jesus stood trial and was crucified. That's your topic. And no matter what happens, don't get distracted. Stay on point. Stay focused on the day Jesus stood trial and was crucified.

Jesus Fulfilled Prophecy.

Begin with Jesus's own words: that he didn't testify about himself, but his Father testified of him. And if you believed Moses and the Prophets, you would have believed in him. That Jesus came to fulfill the law and the Prophets. And he indeed did fulfill the Old Testament. And that is going to be the basis of our entire position: that what happened on the day Jesus died fulfilled hundreds of prophecies given by Moses and the Prophets.

Eyewitnesses to Jesus.

That he had eyewitnesses: the apostles, and the 70 whom Jesus had sent out, and the 120 that were in the upper room on the day of Pentecost, all of whom were eyewitnesses from the time of John the Baptist and Jesus's baptism all the way until his resurrection, and they saw him after he was raised back to life. That the Christian faith is based on testimony, starting with Moses and all the Prophets in the Old Testament, and including the eyewitness testimony of the apostles and the other disciples that faithfully followed Jesus during his time on Earth, who testified that they had seen him resurrected and, in many cases, sealed their testimony with blood, becoming martyrs.

The Foundation of Christian Faith.

And we frame our key point on the prophecies given in the Old Testament and the eyewitness testimony in the four Gospels and the historical evidence that Christianity was founded quickly throughout the Roman Empire by the apostles and by evangelists who testified that they had seen Jesus alive after he had been crucified. That's going to be our focus, so long as the Muslim or group of Muslims are willing to listen. If they are argumentative, if they interrupt repeatedly, if it is evident they are not listening to anything you say, walk away. Please don't argue with them. Don't engage in strife. Kick the dust off your feet.

An Encounter with a Muslim Royal Guard.

However, there are Muslims who will listen. I was an Uber driver in 2020, during the pandemic. I picked up a Muslim who was a member of the Royal Guard of a Saudi Prince. He was traveling from one of the more luxurious hotels in Sarasota to the airport. When we got to the airport, he forgot important things back at the hotel, so we had to make a round trip back to the hotel and again to the airport, which took us another 20 minutes.

Seizing the Opportunity.

And I felt this was an opportunity to share my faith with the Royal Guard of the powerful Saudi Prince in Saudi Arabia. And I engaged directly with him and said, "I am a Christian, and I have a holy book called the Bible." And I said, "You are a Muslim and you have a holy book called the Quran. And the core difference between our holy books is that the Quran claims Jesus never died on the cross, whereas the Bible claims that Jesus did die on the cross."

The Core Difference: Jesus' Death.

Then I pointed out that these two positions cannot be harmonized. Either one claim is true and the other is false, or the claim of one holy book is false and the other is true. And he agreed, and he acknowledged that this was the core difference between Christianity and the Quran, and that only one of these holy books could be true regarding whether or not Jesus died on the cross. And I said, "We only have a short time, and then we're never going to see each other, so allow me to lay out an argument in favor that Jesus truly died on the cross," and he agreed to listen.

Evidence for Jesus' Death: The Earthquake.

I began by saying that the scriptures, the four Gospels, claim that on the day Jesus died, there was both darkness and a great earthquake, and that this earthquake caused damage to the temple in Jerusalem. I pointed out that the earthquake is a historical event that happened on April 1st, 33 AD. That on the same day, the same earthquake destroyed the City of Nicea across the Mediterranean Sea. Nicea was the place of the church council during the time of Constantine in 325 AD. So, 300 years earlier, Nicea was destroyed by the same earthquake that happened on the day Jesus was crucified.

Geological and Historical Confirmation.

And modern-day geologists have studied the sediment columns at the Dead Sea and re-examined them next to the historical accounts of all the earthquakes in the region. And these historical accounts date back a millennium. There was an earthquake about three decades before Jesus was born in Bethlehem, and we can see evidence of that earthquake in the sediment column at the Dead Sea. There was an earthquake that happened on April 1st, 33 AD, and history records it happening on that date because an entire city across the Mediterranean was destroyed on the same day, the City of Nicaea.

Verifying the Earthquake.

I pointed out to this Muslim that you could go to the United States government website that tracks natural disasters, including hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, and you'll discover there was an earthquake in Jerusalem in Palestine on April 1st, 33 AD, and that this earthquake is recorded to have caused damage to the temple in Jerusalem. Therefore, outside the Bible, history records the earthquake and the damage done to the temple in Jerusalem. The earthquake that is recorded in the four Gospels is indisputable. It happened. And modern-day geologists have done extensive laboratory tests, and they know exactly what year this earthquake took place by studying the Dead Sea sediments, its different layers. Furthermore, these laboratory tests have discovered what time of year the earthquake took place, because there are certain pollens present in the sediment layer in which the earthquake is recorded. The evidence is indisputable. The earthquake happened. It happened in the right year. And it happened at the right time of year.

Evidence for Jesus' Death: The Darkness.

Next, the four Gospels record the darkness that happened while Jesus was crucified. Jesus hung on the cross naked. And God made darkness happen. While Jesus was despising the shame, nailed to a cross, and people were mocking him, laughing at him, God caused the darkness to happen. We have independent historical evidence that was being discussed throughout the Roman Empire during the 2nd century. Not just from one historian, but three. And the argument is made that it could not be an eclipse because this darkness took place during the Jewish festival of the Passover. The moon was on the opposite side necessary for it to be an eclipse. It couldn't be an eclipse because of the time of month that this darkness took place. In other words, there was no natural explanation. Furthermore, these historians know this darkness did not just occur in Jerusalem. It occurred throughout the Roman Empire. Regardless of where you lived in the Roman Empire, you experienced this darkness. Therefore, it is attested to by historians outside the Bible that the darkness took place on April 1st, 33 AD.

Evidence for Jesus' Death: Daniel's Prophecy.

Finally, I presented my third piece of evidence to this Muslim: the prophecy of the 70 weeks recorded in Daniel Chapter 9, which begins at a decree to rebuild the walls, the streets, and the gates of Jerusalem. That decree is recorded in Nehemiah Chapter 2, and it was given on the same day as the Passover in 444 BC by the Persian King. And this decree sent Nehemiah to Jerusalem, giving him the resources and the legal authority he needed to rebuild the walls and the streets and gates of Jerusalem, which Nebuchadnezzar destroyed over 140 years earlier. The entire book of Nehemiah tells the story of Nehemiah rebuilding the walls and the streets, and the gates of Jerusalem, and concludes with these walls and gates fully completed. And tells the story of a controversy where there were merchants who tried to sell, and Nehemiah closed the gates and told them that if they returned and tried to sell on the Sabbath, they would be put to death. That's the book of Nehemiah. That's the entire story. It begins with Jerusalem having its walls, its gates, and streets utterly destroyed for 140 years, and Nehemiah given a decree by the King of Persia to return and rebuild the walls, the streets, and the gates, and then telling the story of how this was done during troublous times. Nehemiah went through incredible ordeals as he tried to rebuild the walls and gates of Jerusalem, but he succeeded.

The Timeline of the Prophecy.

Nehemiah is the story that starts our 70-week prophecy. We're told in Daniel Chapter 9 that these 70 weeks were to begin when the decree was made to rebuild the wall and the streets of Jerusalem. That decree was given on Passover, 444 BC. The prophecy tells us that there would be 483 days from that decree until the time when the Messiah, the Prince, would be cut off, but not for himself, but for the sins of Israel. And when we count 483 Passovers from 444 BC, we arrive at the Passover in 33 AD, the very day that the earthquake happened, the very day that the darkness occurred, verified independently outside of the Bible.

Ancient Confirmation of Daniel.

Daniel's prophecy is contained in the Septuagint, which was translated in Alexandria around 250 BC. Daniel's prophecy is recorded in the Dead Sea Scrolls, which likewise predate the birth of Jesus by hundreds of years. Therefore, we know with certainty from two different sources, the Septuagint and the Dead Sea Scrolls, that the book of Daniel predated the birth of Jesus and gave us the exact date, Passover 33 AD, on which the Messiah would be cut off, would die.

The Outcome of the Encounter.

This Uber ride with the Royal Guard member from Saudi Arabia had a limited time frame, so this was all I had time to share. However, I want to tell you the outcome. Now, keep in mind that if I were in Saudi Arabia, I might have had my head cut off. This was a dangerous conversation. However, I was in Sarasota, FL, and really was safe. I was in no danger, but under different circumstances, this conversation could have cost my life.

The Muslims' Response.

But instead of this Muslim despising my message, before he got out at the airport, he gave me a $100 tip. And he told me that he believed my message, that Jesus did in fact die on the cross. The evidence was overwhelming, indisputable. And not only did he give me a $100 tip at the airport, he told me that he planned to share these facts with the Saudi Prince, which meant that he was willing to put his own life in danger once he got back to Saudi Arabia. And not only that, it could cost him, if not his life, it might cost him his career. He might get fired. This was how convinced he was that Jesus died on the cross. And he acknowledged this went against what the Quran said. He acknowledged there was only one outcome, and that outcome proved the Quran was false and that the Bible was true.

Reflecting on the Encounter.

I never found out what happened to him after that. I left and continued doing Uber, picking up other passengers, and I don't know the rest of his story. I'll have to wait until I get inside the Kingdom of God to find out what happened. But today, I am able to share a more complete message. Not only was there an earthquake on April 1st, 33 AD, and darkness recorded on that same date, but Jesus also died on the exact date that Daniel predicted in Daniel Chapter 9. Jesus fulfilled dozens of prophecies that were made by Moses and all the Prophets in the Old Testament.

Remaining Focused.

And for the remainder of today's message, we're going to focus on the fact that Jesus fulfilled the scriptures. He fulfilled the Law and the Prophets. And once again, I want to remind you, don't let a Muslim or a group of Muslims change topics on you. They are likely trained apologists and will want to distract you and lead you down a different conversation that you're not trained or able to answer. Stay focused on the day Jesus was crucified.

Numerous Prophecies about Jesus' Crucifixion.

Numerous prophecies tell us in detail, hundreds of years in advance, the events that would happen on the day Jesus stood trial and was crucified. And you can offer to send him an email copy of all those prophecies, but you can mention them briefly now: that Jesus would be betrayed for 30 pieces of silver; that that money would be used to buy a potter's field. A potter's field is a burial site for people who don't have the money to bury themselves. They're basically unmarked graves. And that Jesus would be pierced. That he would be buried in a rich man's tomb. Every single one of these prophecies was accurately fulfilled by Jesus Christ. These were details that were given to us as early as over 1000 years before Jesus was born in Bethlehem.

The Challenge to Disprove Jesus.

Therefore, in order to disprove that Jesus is the son of God, you do not just have to have arguments against his claim, you have to one by one go through all the Prophets and discredit them, starting with Moses, moving your way all the way through King David and Isaiah, and Zechariah. Because we're not building our faith in Jesus Christ on just his testimony, the principle that is given through the law of Moses is, "By the word of two or three witnesses every word shall be established."

False Messiahs.

There were dozens of Messiah characters that arose during the centuries in which these gospels took place. Decades before Jesus was born, there were Messiah characters, and after his death and resurrection, there were other Messiah characters that rose. And the book of Acts mentions them, mentions how there were Messiah characters that people followed, but later they came to nothing. Those Messiah characters spoke from their authority. They didn't have the eyewitness testimony of Moses and the Prophets. They didn't fulfill the scripture. They failed. They were false Christs. And Moses said regarding false Prophets, not to fear them and not to listen to them, to ignore them, to avoid them.

Addressing the Muslim Confession of Faith.

In the context of sharing the gospel with a Muslim, I would repeat similar confessions of faith that the Muslim makes. The Muslim confesses that there's only one God and his name is Allah, and that Mohammed is his Prophet. Now, I deny that confession. Allah was one of 300 gods, and specifically, he was the moon god, which is why Islam displays a crescent moon as its main symbol. I reject this moon god. When Muslims are praying to Allah, they're praying to a dead statue that cannot hear their prayers.

Do Not Fear Idolatry.

I don't fear Allah. I don't fear witchcraft. I don't fear voodoo. I don't fear sorcery. And I do not fear idolatry. Why? Because in the Book of Moses, we're told that there is no witchcraft or divination against the people of God. We don't have to fear idolatry, demons, witches, or sorcerers. And we're told in the writings of Paul that idols cannot see or hear, that when people pray to them, they're in fact praying to demons. We know historically what the origins of Allah are. Allah was one of 300 different idols that people within that region prayed to and worshipped. And Allah represented the moon god. And what Muhammad did was he abolished the worship of the other 300 gods, and he claimed there was only one God, and that Allah was that one God. He unified the worship of everyone within the region to worship just one of these 300 idols. And yes, indeed, Mohammed was Allah's Prophet. I don't deny that. He became the Prophet of this statue.

The Testimony for Jesus vs. Muhammad.

Remember, Jesus said that he had others who testified of him. Among those who testified about Jesus was the Father himself, who twice said, "This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased." But he had many other eyewitnesses who testified. Many of these witnesses pre-existed his birth in Bethlehem, including Moses, King David, Isaiah, and Zechariah. Muhammad had no such testimony about his office as a prophet. There were no proven Prophets who predated him who gave prophecies that Muhammad would come. Muhammad claimed authority through his testimony about himself. And Jesus spoke about this. He said, "Others will come who will speak of their testimony, and you will believe them." That's what happened with Muhammad. He has no other eyewitnesses, either before him or from his own time. Those who testify about Muhammad do so centuries after he died.

Prophecies Confirming Jesus.

Jesus had a testimony before he was born. The Old Testament is filled with over 300 prophecies, and you can test Jesus by these prophecies to see whether his claim as the Son of God is true. And one of those prophecies predicted the exact date he would die. And this prophecy was given over 500 years before it happened. The duration of that prophecy itself was 483 years from the beginning of it, Passover 444 BC, to the fulfillment when the Messiah would be cut off, 483 years later on Passover 33 AD, the day Jesus died.

The Contrast in Prophecy.

We have dozens of prophecies, not just from one Prophet, but several different Prophets, who each gave us details about the trial and the crucifixion of Christ centuries before it happened. Now let's compare that to the Prophet Muhammad. He testified about himself. The principle says, "By the mouth of two or three witnesses, every word will be established." Muhammad bases his entire claim on his testimony. There are not two or three witnesses. It fails the requirement. If just one person is testifying, the law says you're to reject that testimony. You're not to accept it.

May God's grace and peace be with you.

In Jesus Christ's name. Amen.

Debating Islam: Did Jesus Die on the Cross?—Part 2.

By David Michael Curtis.

The document "Debating Islam Did Jesus Die on the Cross—Part 2" by David Michael Curtis focuses on the historical evidence supporting the Christian belief that Jesus died on the cross, particularly in contrast to Islamic beliefs.

Here are the key points covered:

- Muhammad's Claim vs. Jesus's Testimony: It discusses Muhammad's claim of receiving the Quran from the Angel Gabriel, stating it's based on a single testimony. In contrast, it emphasizes that Jesus's claim is supported by numerous Old Testament prophecies and eyewitness accounts, including up to 500 witnesses after his resurrection.
- Eyewitness Testimony for Jesus: The document highlights the apostles' presence in Jerusalem after Jesus's death and the availability of eyewitnesses to verify the events of Jesus's life, including his miracles and resurrection.
- Historical Evidence for Christianity: It emphasizes the early dating of the Gospels and Epistles, their widespread distribution in different languages, and the consistency of their accounts. It discusses the reliability of the Bible's manuscript tradition due to the abundance of copies.
- Challenges to Scripture: The document addresses the claims that the scriptures have been corrupted, as made by Muslims and Mormons, and argues against these claims. It contrasts the stability of the Bible's manuscript history with the revisions and discrepancies found in the Quran and the Book of Mormon.
- Comparison of Bible and Quran Manuscript History: It argues that the Bible has a solid historical manuscript history. At the same time, the Quran's origins are considered questionable due to its later compilation and the existence of different versions.
- Support from Church Fathers: It mentions that the writings of the Church Fathers provide further evidence for the reliability of the New Testament.
- Rejection of Singular Claims: It argues against basing faith on the testimony of one man receiving a holy book in isolation, contrasting this with the multiple witnesses and prophecies supporting Jesus.
- Emphasis on Jesus's Witnesses: The document concludes by emphasizing the numerous witnesses to Jesus, both before and after his birth, and the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecies. It also briefly addresses the title "Son of God" and the doctrine of the Trinity.

- Evidence of Jesus' Death and Resurrection: It asserts historical evidence for Jesus's death, including the earthquake, the piercing of his side, and the empty tomb.
- Path to Salvation: The document ends by quoting the Bible on belief and confession for salvation.

Dear friends,

The Claim of Muhammad.

Muhammad claimed that he visited a cave and that the Angel Gabriel gave him the Quran. There is no other testimony to verify this claim. And Jesus speaks about this. He says, "Others will come speaking in their authority, and you'll believe them. They'll preach in their name." Well, that's what Muhammad did. He preached in his name. He taught people to trust in the name of Muhammad, to confess that there's only one God, and that Muhammad is His Prophet. According to the law, you're to reject the testimony if it comes from only one person.

Eyewitness Testimony for Jesus.

Jesus's claim doesn't come from just one person. He has a multitude of witnesses before his birth who recorded in advance the events of his life, and specifically the events on the day he was tried under Pontius Pilate and crucified. He has as many as 500 eyewitnesses after his resurrection. While the church was being established throughout the Roman Empire, the Jewish people who were scattered throughout the Roman Empire would travel to Jerusalem for the three annual feasts. They would travel through Capernaum. They would travel around the Sea of Galilee. They would travel through Samaria. And they would arrive in Jerusalem. And when they got to Jerusalem, they found a group of people that we know as the apostles who compared the life of Jesus to Moses and the Prophets and proved that Jesus of Nazareth was the Christ.

The Apostles in Jerusalem.

We know that the apostles were in Jerusalem for at least 17 years. So Jesus died on April 1st, 33 AD, and the Apostles were in Jerusalem as late as 50 AD. During which there were hundreds of thousands of Jews traveling from all over the Roman Empire to the city of Jerusalem for the annual feasts. And we were hearing the stories taught by the apostles themselves. We were able to visit the locations where these stories took place, including the empty tomb, and could see with their own eyes where these stories took place and interview the people we read about in the four Gospels. They could meet the 12-year-old girl who was brought back to life. They could meet Lazarus, who was raised back to life. They could meet those who were healed of leprosy, blindness, who were made able to speak again, and then return to their homes throughout the Roman Empire and spread these stories in their towns and villages, and cities. Later, to would be visited by evangelists who would verify these stories and testify they saw Jesus alive after the resurrection.

The Historical Evidence for Christianity.

This is what those who believe in Muslims that are Muslims are up against. We have the gospel and the Epistles, or the letters of the apostles, written at an early date within the 1st century. We have these manuscripts copied in dozens of different languages discovered throughout the Roman Empire that were all translated into these languages at the same time, very early. And these different accounts given in different locations under different languages can be compared, and you can see that they're all telling the same thing. They're saying the same story, given the same facts. So, suppose you want to know for certainty whether we have the same Gospel of Mark. In that case, all you have to do is study the different manuscript traditions that are recorded in different languages throughout the Roman Empire, which were all translated at the same time in different locations. And you'll see through comparing these manuscripts that the Gospel of Mark we have today in the King James Bible is the same Gospel of Mark that was spreading in the 1st century.

Manuscript Reliability.

We don't have the original manuscripts. However, we have copies of copies that came from the 2nd century in different languages, which is actually more dependable? If we only had one manuscript, only one copy, it would not be as trustworthy as having thousands of copies. And that's exactly what we have. We have thousands of copies in different languages. From which we can compare, and by having thousands of copies, we actually have a more reliable source than if we only had one original copy.

Challenges to Scripture.

In order to discredit Jesus Christ, a Muslim must discredit all the sources that testify about him one by one. The Muslims claim that the scriptures have been corrupted and are not trustworthy. And we have a similar situation among the Mormons. The Mormons claim that the scriptures have been corrupted and cannot be trusted, which is why they claim we need another testament, which was given through Joseph Smith. In the same way that Muhammad got the Quran, both Mohammed and Joseph Smith claim to have received their holy book in a cave from an angel. Their claims are identical.

Revisions of Holy Books.

Their holy books, the Quran and the Book of Mormon, have been edited throughout time. And they both have three dozen different revisions. There are three dozen Korans throughout the world. Muslims are taught that the Quran is identical to the way it was given to Muhammad, that not a single letter has been changed, and that the Quran is eternal. And then these same people realize they have been disillusioned. They have believed something that wasn't true. That there are groups of Muslims throughout the world that combined have three dozen different Korans. They have differences.

Comparing the Bible and Quran Manuscript History.

So what we've been discussing are the two holy books, and demonstrating that the Bible has a historical manuscript history that is solid rock. That while Muslims and Mormons claim the Bible has been corrupted, their claim is false and is easily debunked when we understand the manuscript history: how the Bible was written very early, and the New Testament manuscripts were written very early. They were dispersed throughout the Roman Empire in dozens of languages. And that we may not have the original copies, but we have copies of those copies from as early as the 2nd century. And that we can compare all of these different thousands and thousands of manuscripts to each other.

Writings of the Church Fathers.

Furthermore, during the first 300 years, we have the writings of the Church Fathers. These writings contain so many quotes from the New Testament that the entire New Testament could be reconstructed even if we did not have any other manuscripts. So, it is overwhelming evidence that the Bible we hold in our hands today was the same Bible that people had in the 1st century.

Questionable Origin of the Quran.

Whereas when we compare that manuscript history to the book of the Quran, to the Quran, we find that the first copies of the Quran were not made until centuries after Muhammad died. They were assembled by people who amassed great wealth and power, who were followed as though they were kings. And their copies of the Quran that they made established themselves as that authority. So the origin of the Quran is questionable because its purpose was to establish the men who made it as kings.

Discrepancies in Quran Versions.

And throughout the entire tradition of the Muslim religion, there have been these very powerful people who are revered by those in Islam. And these great, mighty men are where we get the Quran from. We have to take their word for it. As a result of having so many leaders within Islam who each ruled different territories, each had its own Quran. And for over 1000 years, the people in Islam were not aware of this. But this has come out in the last century, that each one of these territories ruled by one of these great men has a different version of the Quran. They're not the same. And the result of the Quran was to elevate these men to great power, to have great authority. So, each of these rulers has a different Quran. They don't agree with each other.

Conclusion on the Quran's Reliability.

What we have here is a prophet named Muhammad who had no eyewitnesses. The copies of the Quran were not made until centuries after he died. And the fact that these different Korans are not the same leaves us with only one reasonable conclusion: that we should reject all of them. Let's suppose one of these 36 Korans is the right one. How would we verify which one is the right Koran? We cannot verify one above the other 35. The nation, the religion we call Islam, cannot agree on a single Koran. It's divided into 36 different versions, each having its tradition, each being memorized for generations dating back over 1000 years, each unwilling to abandon its version of the Quran. The entire religion is a confusion that's at odds with itself.

The Challenge to Muslims.

So, before trying to convince me to accept the Quran, agree on which Quran I should accept. Which one? From which region, from which tradition, which version of the Quran should I accept? None of them. They should all equally be rejected.

Problems with Other Holy Books (Mormon, Adventist).

Mormons and Seventh Day Adventists have a similar problem. Because the writings of their Prophet are continuously revised and changed. There have been three dozen different revisions to the Book of Mormon, so which one? And if you can't agree on one, then don't push it on other people. Why not use the original? Why were the revisions in the first place? Didn't Joseph Smith accurately copy the golden tablets in that cave? These are serious problems. Any thinking person should reject the Book of Mormon.

And suppose you're a Seventh Day Adventist. In that case, please look at your copies of Ellen G. White's writings, and I'll point out, the only way you can continue to have a copyright on books that were written 150 years ago is to make enough alterations to warrant a new copyright. There have to be significant revisions, not just different punctuation or just changing a word here and there. The writings of Ellen G. White have been seriously revised repeatedly by the Ellen G. White Estate, and that's why the newest copies being sold at the Adventist Book Center all have copyrights on them. Otherwise, everything she ever wrote would be in the public domain now. Why alter and change what she wrote? She had editors who helped her while she was still alive. Her books were already very well written. Why revise supposedly holy writings? What gives them the right? Wouldn't you want the writings of a prophet, like Muhammad or Joseph Smith, or Ellen G. White, in their original forms? Wouldn't you like to have the closest thing possible to the original? And since they have been revised and changed, why would you trust people who are not Prophets to revise them? How do you know the revisions are correct? And if they are correct, that implies that the original was not correct.

The Superior Manuscript History of the Bible.

Now, compare that to the Holy Bible. The Holy Bible has a manuscript history that dates back to the 2nd century, which were copies of the originals from the 1st century. We have thousands of copies in dozens of languages that have been discovered throughout the Roman Empire. We're able to compare all of these different manuscripts. And their core is identical; it's the same. The variations that are present don't alter the meaning of the text at all. One copy might have spelled a word differently, but it was the same word. One copy might have rearranged the words, but it was the same sentence. They're all in agreement with each other. There are no variations that alter any Christian doctrines in these manuscripts.

Support from Church Fathers.

And we also have the writings of the Church fathers that quoted from these sources directly in their time, dating back to the second and third centuries. And because of this rich resource of manuscripts, thousands upon thousands of manuscripts that we can compare with each other, we can know with certainty that the King James Bible that we hold in our hands today is the same Bible that was used during the first 3 centuries of the church's history.

The Unreasonableness of Singular Claims.

We don't base our faith on the Bible on one man receiving this holy book in a cave. That is unreasonable. It is unreasonable to accept the claim of just one man who mysteriously received their holy book without any other eyewitnesses in a cave by an angel that nobody else sees, based on golden tablets or writings that disappear and nobody else can compare.

Strong Concluding Contrast.

This entire message, if delivered in the wrong location on Earth, could be very dangerous. And we're going to go ahead and end this message with a very strong ending. We've laid out the case that Muhammad rose to this great position based on his testimony. It's not based on the testimony of two or three witnesses. Those who claim to be witnesses to give us the Quran date centuries after Muhammad's death. He doesn't have any prophecies predating his birth. He has no eyewitnesses testifying about him while he was alive. The entire religion of Islam is based on one man's testimony, and that testimony is not recorded until centuries after he dies and has resulting in three dozen different Korans.

Jesus's Great Cloud of Witnesses.

And so I'm going to end with a very strong message that contrasts with this. And I'm going to point out that Jesus has a great cloud of witnesses, not just two or three witnesses. And that his witnesses predate his birth in Bethlehem, in some cases, by over 1000 years. And that he had as many as 500 witnesses to his resurrection who were alive and available for interviews. And that there was an entire nation of Jews that were dispersed throughout the Roman Empire, who were traveling to the Temple of Jerusalem, to the feasts. And that they returned to their homes, repeating these stories throughout the world.

Early Church Expansion.

That's how the church in Rome started. There were Romans in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost who heard the 120 speak in various languages, including their own. Among the 3000 converts on the day of Pentecost who were baptized by Peter and the 120 from the upper room were Romans who returned to the city of Rome and started house churches. Immediately after the resurrection, the churches in Rome were just one example. Various people from all over the Roman Empire returned to their homes and were among the 3000 baptized by Peter, who, when they returned home, started house churches throughout the world.

Christianity Based on Eyewitness Testimony.

And from the very beginning, the church was built on eyewitness testimony by the apostles and by hundreds of other eyewitnesses who saw Jesus after the resurrection. Christianity is based on eyewitness testimony. And this eyewitness testimony was evidenced from the very beginning, immediately after the resurrection, on the day of Pentecost. And some miracles were performed by these eyewitnesses, verifying that God sent them. This is historical. And if you're going to reject the eyewitnesses, you must do so one by one. You can't just lump them all together and dismiss them all out of hand. Starting with Moses. You need to come up with reasonable reasons why you don't believe Moses.

The Prophecy of the Prophet.

Moses said that a prophet would come like him. And it is the testimony of Peter that Jesus Christ is the Prophet. So I'm going to finish very strong today and say that there's only one God, and Jesus Christ is His Prophet. Peter warned, based on the warning of Moses, "You must hear that prophet, and God will destroy anybody who refuses to hear that prophet." There's a very strong warning against rejecting the teachings of that Prophet. That Prophet is not Muhammad. That Prophet is Jesus Christ. Moses predicted a prophet would come, and that Prophet was Jesus Christ.

The Consequences of Rejecting Jesus.

If you're going to listen to a prophet, the one whom God said would come, then you ought to follow Jesus Christ. If you reject Jesus Christ, God will require it of your hand. If you don't listen to him, God will destroy that individual. There's no such warning by Moses regarding Muhammad. I don't fear Muhammad. I believe in Jesus Christ. He is the Prophet, the one true Prophet, the one who is above all the other Prophets, Jesus Christ.

Understanding the Title "Son of God."

If you're a Muslim and you take issue with the title that Jesus is the son of God, I want to help you so that this is not a stumbling block. We're told repeatedly in the New Testament that Jesus is a stumbling block, causing people to stumble. And the fact that the Bible calls Jesus the son of God causes Muslims to stumble. And I want to help you so you don't stumble at the cornerstone, Jesus Christ.

Jesus has 341 titles in the Bible. Son of God is just one of those 341 titles. What does the title Son of God represent? God has a throne in heaven. Heaven is a real place that is filled with real angels. And right now, Jesus is seated on that throne. His title, Son of God, is directly tied to his kingship. Christ means the anointed one. Anointed one goes back to the story when Samuel anointed David as the King who would replace Saul. Jesus is the son of God. He is the anointed one, the Christ. And this language represents that he is the one God chose to sit on his throne in heaven. Believing that Jesus is the son of God is to believe he is the anointed one, the Christ, the King of kings, whom all the angels of heaven bow and worship. There's more to this name.

But let's start from a position that may not cause you to stumble. If you have been a follower of the Quran, and today you discovered there are three dozen different versions of the Koran, each with its own tradition, each with generations memorizing it in different parts of the world, and if this has shaken your faith in the Koran, well, praise God. There's only one God. And today I don't want you to stumble at Jesus as the son of God. Today, I want you to focus on one truth that's connected to Jesus being the son of God, and that is that he is God's anointed. He is the one God chose to sit on his throne. There's only one God. And God is so glorious that no one can see his face and live. The one God chose to sit on his throne to represent him is Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus is the son of God. He is the Christ. He is risen. He is seated on the throne in heaven. The angels of God worship him.

The Doctrine of the Trinity (Brief Mention).

And I don't want you to stumble because of the doctrine of the Trinity, that there is a father, a son, and a Holy Ghost, but there's only one God. Let's cover that later. For now, I want you to acknowledge and confess that Jesus is the Son of God. He is the one God chose to sit on his throne to represent him to the angels in heaven. No one can see the Father's face and live. However, through Jesus Christ, we can see God. Through Jesus Christ, we can look on his face and live. And Jesus is the express image of the Father. If you've seen Jesus, you've seen the Father.

Believe in the Holy Bible.

So today, I would invite you to believe in the Holy Bible. That's the holy book I believe in. Why? It contains hundreds of prophecies that Jesus fulfilled. It contains eyewitness testimony of people who saw Jesus after the resurrection. It can stand up to the scrutiny of scholars, historians, skeptics, atheists, and other religions. It can stand up against the claims of the Koran, which claims that Jesus never died on the cross.

Evidence of Jesus' Death.

Historically, we have proven today beyond any reasonable doubt that Jesus truly died on the cross. After he died, a Roman soldier took a spear and pierced his side, and out came water and blood. Anyone who has a spear pierce their heart is dead. Period. No one can continue living once a spear pierces their heart. Jesus was such a man. He truly died on the cross.

Events at Jesus' Death.

The moment he died, there was a great earthquake. That earthquake destroyed the City of Nicaea across the Mediterranean Sea. The moment Jesus died, the temple in Jerusalem was damaged, and that damage is recorded historically, verifiably outside of the Bible. We know that the earthquake happened on Passover in 33 AD, and that earthquake caused damage to the temple that day.

The Empty Tomb and Resurrection.

57. Raised From the Dead

Prophesied

Psalm 16:8-11. I have set the LORD always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my flesh also shall rest in hope. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

Fulfilled

Acts 2:24-31. Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it. For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved: Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance. Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day. Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne; He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

58. Begotten As Son Of God

Prophesied

Psalm 2:7. I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.

Fulfilled

Acts 13:32-35. And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David. Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

59. Ascended To Heaven

Prophesied

Psalm 68:18. Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell among them.

Fulfilled

Ephesians 4:8-10. Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men. (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)

John 3:13. And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

60. Seated Beside God

Prophesied

Psalm 110:1. A Psalm of David. The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

Fulfilled

Hebrews 1:3. Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;

Hebrews 1:13. But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

Peter's Discourse on Pentecost

Acts 2:14-39 ¶ But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words: For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day. But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel; And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams: And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy: And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke: The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come: And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved. Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it. For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved: Therefore did my heart rejoyce, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance. Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day. Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne; He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption. This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses. Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear. For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Until I make thy foes thy footstool. Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ. ¶ Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do? Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

Peter's Sermon on Solomon's Porch

Acts 3:12-26 ¶ And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk? The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers. But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled. Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord; And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you: Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began. For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you. And it shall come to pass, that every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people. Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days. Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

Peters Address Before The Sanhedrin

Acts 4:8-12 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole; Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole. This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

Stephen's Defense

Acts 7:1-53 ¶ Then said the high priest, Are these things so? And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran, And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. Then came he out of the land of the Chaldaeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell. And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child. And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years. And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place. And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs. And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: but God was with him, And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house. Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first. And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh. Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls. So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers, And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem. ¶ But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph. The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live. In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months: And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds. And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel. And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian: For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not. And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday? Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons. ¶ And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold. Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground. I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt. This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years. This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear. This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: who received the lively oracles to give unto us: To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt, Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands. ¶ Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness? Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon. Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen. Which also our fathers that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David; Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob. But Solomon built him an house. Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet, Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest? Hath not my hand made all these things? ¶ Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers: Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

The First Sermon to the Gentiles

Acts 10:35-43 But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all:) That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judaea, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him. And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree: Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly; Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

Peter's Defense Before the Church

Acts 11:5-18 I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me: Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air. And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; slay and eat. But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth. But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common. And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven. And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Caesarea unto me. And the spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house: And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter; Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved. And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning. Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost. Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ; what was I, that I could withstand God? When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

Paul's Address At Antioch

Acts 13:17-41 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with an high arm brought he them out of it. And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness. And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, he divided their land to them by lot. And after that he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet. And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years. And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will. Of this man's seed hath God according to his promise raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus: When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose. Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent. For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him. And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain. And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre. But God raised him from the dead: And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people. And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David. Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins: And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken of in the prophets; Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

Paul's Address in Athens

Acts 17:22-31 ¶ Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us: For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent: Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

Paul's Address To the Ephesian Elders

Acts 20:18-35 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons, Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews: And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house, Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God. And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more. Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock. Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them. Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel. Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

Paul's Defense in the Temple

Acts 22:3-21 ¶ I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day. And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished. And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me. And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus. And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him. And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth. For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord. And it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance; And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me. And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him. And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles.

Paul's Address Before Felix

Acts 24:10-21 ¶ Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself: Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship. And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city: Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me. But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets: And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men. Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings. Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult. Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me. Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council, Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

Paul's Address Before Agrippa

Acts 26:2-29 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews: Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers: Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead? I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. Which thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them. And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities. ¶ Whereupon as I went to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests, At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee; Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judaea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance. For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me. Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come: That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles. ¶ And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad. But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness. For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner. King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian. And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

Paul's Address to the Jews at Rome

And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers, Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive: For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them. Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.

8. The divine conversations in the Psalms,

Psalms 2:1-9 ¶ Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision. Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure. Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. ¶ I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Matthew 28:19-20 Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

12. The Trinitarian Apostolic Benediction

2 Corinthians 13:14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

C. C. Ryrie writes:

“There is only one God, but in the unity of the Godhead there are three eternal and co-equal Persons, the same in substance, but distinct in subsistence.”

Robert Culver writes:

“Two expressions have been traditionally employed to designate certain inner relations between the Father and the Son, and the Father and the Son with the Spirit. These two expressions are the eternal generation of the Son by the Father and the eternal spiration (or procession) of the Spirit from the Father and the Son. They began to be employed about the time of the council of Nicea (a.d. 325). They expressed in scriptural language the idea that the Son and the Spirit were eternally with the Godhead. John 1:14 refers to our Lord as the ‘only begotten’ of the Father. And John 14:16, 26 and 15:26 speak of the Spirit as ‘proceeding from the Father and the Son.’” (The Living God, p. 96)

False Views Concerning the Trinity

There are two serious errors about the doctrine of the Trinity.

The error of Tritheism.

This says that the Trinity consists of three separate (but cooperating) Gods.

The error of Modalism.

According to this view, there is but one God who simply reveals himself through three different modes or roles. For example, a particular man could be considered a husband to his wife, a father to his children, and an employee to his boss.

Proposed illustration demonstrating the Trinity. Throughout church history, various illustrations have been offered to demonstrate the Trinity. Seven such examples are as follows. The first four are totally unscriptural, while the final three possess some limited possibilities.

Old Testament Trinity Passages

The first name used for God: Elohim (Gen. 1:1).

This name is plural in form but is joined to a singular verb.

The creation of man.

Genesis 1:26 ¶ And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

The expulsion from Eden.

Genesis 3:22 ¶ And the LORD God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever:

The confusion at Babel.

Genesis 11:7 Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.

The usage of the same word, echad, in Genesis 2:24 and in Deuteronomy 6:4. Echad is Hebrew for "one." These passages teach that God is one, as husband and wife are one.

The teachings of King Agur.

Proverbs 30:4 Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell?

The plural forms used in Ecclesiastes and Isaiah.

Ecclesiastes 12:1 ¶ Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;

In the original this is literally “thy creators.”

Isaiah 54:5 For thy Maker is thine husband; the LORD of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel; The God of the whole earth shall he be called.

Here “maker” should be translated “makers.”

The Triune Conversations in Isaiah.

Isaiah 6:8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me.

Isaiah 48:16 ¶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD, and his Spirit, hath sent me.

Isaiah 63:9-10 In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. 10 But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.

The conversation between the Father and Son.

Psalms 2:1-9 ¶ Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision. Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure. Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. ¶ I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Psalm 45:6-8 ¶ Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre. Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

Psalm 110:1-5 ¶ A Psalm of David. The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. The temptation of Christ.

Matthew 4:1 ¶ Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

The teachings of Jesus.

John 14:16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

The Greek word here translated “another” is allos, meaning another of the same kind. Heteros is the Greek word for another of a different kind. It is never used in referring to the Trinity.

John 14:26 But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

The Baptismal Formula.

Judges 13:21-22 But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Manoah and to his wife. Then Manoah knew that he was an angel of the LORD. And Manoah said unto his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God.

Luke 22:19-20. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

Jesus Christ, High Priest Over the Church

"Having an High Priest Over the House of God" Hebrews 10:21.

To Make Reconciliation For The Sins of the People.

Hebrews 2:17. Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

Consider The High Priest Of Our Profession, Christ Jesus.

Hebrews 3:1. Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;

A Great High Priest That Is Passed Into The Heavens.

Hebrews 4:14-15. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Offer Both Gifts And Sacrifices For Sins.

Hebrews 5:1. For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

Glorified Not Himself.

Hebrews 5:5. So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

After The Order Of Melchizedek.

Hebrews 5:10. Called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

Hebrews 6:20. Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made an high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

Psalms 110:4. The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

Hebrews 5:6. As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

Hebrews 7:15. And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest,

Hebrews 7:17. For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

Because He Continueth Ever.

Hebrews 7:24. But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.

Holy, Harmless, Undefined, Separate From Sinners.

Hebrews 7:26. For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;

Is Consecrated For Evermore.

Hebrews 7:28 For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

Is Set On The Right Hand of the Throne.

Hebrews 8:1. Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

Ordained To Offer Gifts And Sacrifices.

Hebrews 8:3. For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

Went, Not Without Blood.

Hebrews 9:7. But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

In A Tabernacle, Not Made With Hands.

Hebrews 9:11. But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

Nor Yet That He Should Offer Himself Often.

Hebrews 9:25. Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

An High Priest Over The House Of God.

Hebrews 10:21. And having an high priest over the house of God;

The High Priest For Sin, Burned Without The Camp.

Hebrews 13:11. For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

Appointed And Called By God.

Hebrews 3:1. Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;

Hebrews 5:4-5. And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

Superior To Aaron And The Levitical Priests.

Hebrews 7:11. If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

Hebrews 7:16. Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

Hebrews 8:1-2. Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens; A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

Hebrews 8:6. But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.

Consecrated With An Oath.

Hebrews 7:20-21. And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest: (For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:)

Has An Unchangeable Priesthood.

Hebrews 7:23-25. And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death: But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

Hebrews 7:28. For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

Is Of Unblemished Purity.

Hebrews 7:26. For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;

Hebrews 7:28. For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

Faithful.

Hebrews 3:2. Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

Needed No Sacrifice For Himself.

Hebrews 7:27. Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

Offered Himself A Sacrifice.

Hebrews 9:14. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

Hebrews 9:26. For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

His Sacrifice Superior To All Others.

Hebrews 9:13-14. For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh: How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

Hebrews 9:23. It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

Offered Sacrifice But Once.

Hebrews 7:27. Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

Hebrews 9:25-26. Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others; For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

Made Reconciliation.

Hebrews 2:17. Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

Obtained Eternal Redemption For Us.

Hebrews 9:12. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

Entered Into Heaven.

Hebrews 4:14. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

Hebrews 10:12. But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God;

To Appear In The Presence Of God For Us

Hebrews 9:24. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:

Sympathizes With Those Who Are Tempted.

Hebrews 2:18. For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

Hebrews 4:15. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Intercedes.

Hebrews 7:25. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

Hebrews 9:24. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:

Blesses.

Numbers 6:23-26. Speak unto Aaron and unto his sons, saying, On this wise ye shall bless the children of Israel, saying unto them, The LORD bless thee, and keep thee: The LORD make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee: The LORD lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.

Acts 3:26. Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

On His Throne.

Zechariah 6:13. Even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

Appointment Of, And Encouragement To Steadfastness.

Hebrews 4:14. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

In Virtue Of His Atonement.

Ephesians 2:13-18. But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace; And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father.

And he gave him tithes of all.

And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest. Again he said unto me, Prophecy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones; Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live: And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them. Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the wind, prophecy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our parts. Therefore prophecy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, And shall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree: Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly; Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. There is neither Jew nor Arab, all alike are invited to become the sons of God

It is my hope, in presenting this book, that I have not caused anyone any offense.

1 Corinthians 10:32 Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God:

Romans 9:33 As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

Grace is not Merited through Good Works.

Trusting in Religious Works for Salvation, Makes Void the Gospel.

Obedience to “Obsolete Commandments,” “Beguiles you of your Reward.”

Colossians 2:12-17. Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. and you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses; Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross; and having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it. Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days: Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

Colossians 2:18-23. Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, and not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God. Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances, (Touch not; taste not; handle not; Which all are to perish with the using;) after the commandments and doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

The Gentiles were Alienated from the Jews by the Law of Moses.

Ephesians 2:12. That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world:

By the Blood of Christ, Jesus hath Broken Down the Middle Wall of Partition.

Ephesians 2:13-14. But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

The Religious Ordinances, and Works of the Law of Moses, Have Been Abolished.

Ephesians 2:15. Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace::

Man Has Access to God, by Christ's Death, and not by Religious Works.

Ephesians 2:16-19. and that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: and came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

Men are Saved by Grace through Faith; not by Observing Religious Works.

Ephesians 2:8-10 For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

Man Cannot Be Justified by the Law of Moses.

Acts 13:39. and by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

The Law Given That All the World May Become Guilty Before God.

Romans 3:19-20. Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

Man Is Justified by Faith Without the Deeds of the Law.

Romans 3:27-28. Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith. Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

The Promise was not Through the Law.

Romans 4:13-16. For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect: Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression. Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all,

Ye Are Not Under the Law, But Under Grace.

Romans 6:14. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

Ye Are Dead to the Law by the Death of Christ.

Romans 7:1-5. Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth? For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband. So then if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death.

We Are Delivered From the Law.

Romans 7:6-7. But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter. What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

The Law of Moses Cannot Accuse or Condemn Those in Christ.

Romans 8:1-4. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

John 5:45. Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

Israel Sought to be Justified by the Works of the Law.

Romans 9:31-32. But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumblingstone;

Christ is the End of the Law.

Romans 10:4. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

Only Perfect Obedience to the Whole Law Can Justify You by the Law.

Romans 10:5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.

Galatians 3:10-13. For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith. and the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

Galatians 4:21. Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

Galatians 5:3-4. For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law. Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; ye are fallen from grace.

James 2:10-11. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

By the Works of the Law Shall No Flesh Be Justified.

Galatians 2:16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

I Am Dead to the Law.

I Do Not Frustrate the Grace of God.

Galatians 2:21. I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

No One Receives the Spirit by the Works of the Law.

Galatians 3:2. This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

Galatians 3:5. He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

The Law Cannot Disannul the Promise.

Galatians 3:17-19. And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect. For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise. Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

Righteousness Is Not by the Law.

Galatians 3:21. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

The Law Was Our Schoolmaster to Bring Us unto Christ.

Galatians 3:23-24. But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

Christ Came to Redeem Those That Were Under the Law.

If Ye Be Led of the Spirit, Ye Are Not Under the Law.

Galatians 5:18. But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

No One Is Able to Keep the Law.

Galatians 6:13. For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

John 7:19. Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?

The Law of Commandments Has Been Abolished.

Ephesians 2:15. Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace;

The Law Made Nothing Perfect.

Hebrews 7:19. For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did; by the which we draw nigh unto God.

Let No Man Beguile You of Your Reward.

Colossians 2:13-20. and you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses; Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross; and having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it. Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days: Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ. Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, and not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God. Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

How Turn Ye Again... to be In Bondage?

Galatians 4:8-11 Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods. But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage? Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years. I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

Lord, Lord, Have We Not Done Many Wonderful Works?

Matthew 7:21-23. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? and then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

Galatians 2:21. I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

John 3:18. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

John 6:40. and this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

Making the Word of God of None Effect through Tradition.

Note. A hypocrite is "an actor."

Mark 7:6-9. He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do. and he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

Mark 7:13. Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

Matthew 23:25-28. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

Galatians 2:16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

Romans 5:1. Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

Conclusion.

John 6:29. Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

1 John 3:23. and this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

2 Timothy 1:9. Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began,

Titus 3:3-5. For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another. But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;

By the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified.

Romans 3:20. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

Romans 3:27-28. Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith. Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

Galatians 2:16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

The Carnal Mind is not Subject to the Law of God

Romans 8:7 Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

They That Are in the Flesh Cannot Please God

Romans 8:8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

He Cannot Enter into the Kingdom of God.

John 3:3-5 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

In My Flesh, Dwelleth No Good Thing

Romans 7:18-21 For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do. Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

The Law of Sin in My Members

Summary Of Romans 1:18-3:20

Galatians 3:22 But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

All Have Sinned

Romans 3:23 For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

Romans 3:20-3:28

Romans 3:28 Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

Romans 3:20-28 Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference: For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus. Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith. Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

Not By Works of Righteousness Which We Have Done

Romans 4:2 For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.

Romans 9:32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumblingstone;

We Have Now Received the Atonement.

The Gift by Grace, Is by One Man, Jesus Christ

By The Righteousness Of One the Free Gift Came

Christ Died for the Ungodly.

Romans 5:6-8. For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die. But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. and SUCH WERE SOME OF YOU: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

Christ Was Once Offered to bear The Sins of Many.

Hebrews 9:28. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

We Were Redeemed with the Precious Blood of Christ.

1 Peter 1:18-19. Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

By the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

Romans 5:17-19 For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.) Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

The Word of Faith.

Romans 10:8-13 But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach; That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

Received ye the Spirit By Faith, or by the Law?

Galatians 3:2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

Galatians 3:5 He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

Christ Suffered "Once," Not Daily.

Hebrews 7:27. Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

Hebrews 9:7. But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

Hebrews 9:12. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

Hebrews 9:25-26. Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others; For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

Hebrews 9:28. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

Hebrews 10:10. By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

1 Peter 3:18. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

1 Corinthians 15:1-4. The present time the season for.

Shame and confusion.

Since the days of our fathers have we been in a great trespass unto this day; and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our priests, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to a spoil, and to confusion of face, as it is this day. And now for a little space grace hath been shewed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage. For we were bondmen; yet our God hath not forsaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving, to set up the house of our God, and to repair the desolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem. And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? for we have forsaken thy commandments, Which thou hast commanded by thy servants the prophets, saying, The land, unto which ye go to possess it, is an unclean land with the filthiness of the people of the lands, with their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another with their uncleanness. Now therefore give not your daughters unto their sons, neither take their daughters unto your sons, nor seek their peace or their wealth for ever: that ye may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever. And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great trespass, seeing that thou our God hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us such deliverance as this; Should we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the people of these abominations? wouldest not thou be angry with us till thou hadst consumed us, so that there should be no remnant nor escaping? O LORD God of Israel, thou art righteous: for we remain yet escaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespasses: for we cannot stand before thee because of this.

Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus. When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

Baptism is for the Remission of Sins, and the Gift of the Holy Ghost.

Acts 2:38-39. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

The Believer is Sealed Immediately after Baptism, by the Holy Ghost.

Ephesians 1:13. In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise,

Ephesians 4:30. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

Unites With Christ's Death, Burial & Resurrection.

Romans 6:3-4. Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

Colossians 2:12. Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

Unites With Christ's Body, The Church.

1 Corinthians 12:13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

Is How Believers Put On Christ.

Galatians 3:27-28. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

Genesis 3:21. Unto Adam also and to his wife did the LORD God make coats of skins, and clothed them.

Job 29:14. I put on righteousness, and it clothed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.

Isaiah 61:10. I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

A Man Which had not on a Wedding Garment.

Matthew 22:11-14. And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment: And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless. Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few are chosen.

Conducted In Different Houses, Doesn't Divide the Church into Separate Denominations.

1 Corinthians 1:13-17. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius; Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

Galatians 3:27-28. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

Baptism Into Christ's Death Has Set Us Free From The Law

Romans 7:1-4. Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth? For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband. So then if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

Replaced Circumcision As The Seal Of The New Covenant

Colossians 2:11-13. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ: Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses.

One Baptism Vs. When Rebaptism Is Necessary.

Ephesians 4:5. states that there is one Lord, one faith, one baptism, and yet Acts 19 demonstrates that when a correct understanding of the gospel is not present, a rebaptism is necessary,

The Thief On The Cross.

The thief on the cross demonstrates that faith in Jesus Christ is sufficient to save in extremely rare cases when baptism is impossible. However it is a misinterpretation when someone uses this isolated and very rare circumstance that prevented the thief from being baptized as an excuse to not be baptized, by somebody that is able to be baptized. Anyone that foolishly uses this example as a legal loophole or as a technicality, to downplay the importance of baptism and avoid being baptized, should be warned that there is no excuse for refusing to obey Christ's commandment to be baptized, when you are able to be baptized. If a miracle had set the thief on the cross free, you can be certain that he would have been baptized.

Baptism is Obedience to the Gospel Motivated by Love to Jesus Christ

Baptism Is Not "Salvation By Works."

Mark 16:16. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

John 14:23-24. Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

Matthew 7:24-25. Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

All Who Refuse to Obey the Gospel Perish.

Mark 16:16. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

John 14:24. He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

Matthew 7:26-27. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

2 Thessalonians 1:8. In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

1 Peter 4:17. For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

Baptism “Saves.”

In like Figure as the Ark “Saved” From The Flood.

1 Peter 3:20-21. Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good Conscience toward God,) by The Resurrection of Jesus Christ:

Mark 16:16. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. The death of Jesus on the Cross saves from sin, Baptism is the sign that unites the repentant believer into Christ's death. Romans 6:1-4. Upon Baptism the believer receives the Holy Ghost, by which he is sealed unto the day of redemption.

The thief on the cross demonstrates that when circumstances make Baptism utterly impossible, Christ will redeem and rejoice with that person in Paradise. However when Baptism is possible, and it is refused, there is no forgiveness of sins. Such refusal is deemed unbelief and denial of Christ.

Baptism Did Not Save the Unrepentant Simon Magus.

Simon Magus Believed And Was Baptized.

Acts 8:12. But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

Simon Magus Had Not Received The Holy Ghost

Acts 8:16. (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.)

Why Not? Simon Magus Had Not Repented,

Faith, And Baptism In The Name Of The Lord Did Not Save Him. The Water Did Not Impart Any Supernatural Powers Or Graces To Simon Magus, Without Repentance, Simon Magus Was Still In The Gall Of Bitterness, And In The Bond Of Iniquity.

Acts 8:14-25. Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.) Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money. Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee. For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity. Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me. And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

Acts 8:36. And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

Acts 8:38. And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

The Lord's Supper, 'Eating Unworthily'

Take Up His Cross Daily (In Memory), And Follow Me

Luke 9:23 And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

Dear friends,

The Lord's Supper is not a ritual; it is a feast. Eating a morsel of bread and ½ ounces of wine does not constitute the Lord's Supper. It's a counterfeit, not the genuine Lord's Supper. It should be done every time Christians meet together, not just once every three months. A false Lord's Supper ritual that neglects the oft-love feast of the true Lord's Supper is the simplest way to know for certainty you are in the wrong place of worship. If your house of worship does not have a love feast that reminds you of the finished atonement of Jesus on the Cross every time it meets, you are in the wrong place. If you are only eating a morsel of bread and ½ ounces of wine every time during the Lord's Supper, you are in the wrong place.

The church as a whole is doing the Lord's Supper in the wrong way and missing its significance, which is meant to be a time when rich and poor meet, humble themselves in love and unity, and remember the gospel, which is salvation through the finished work of the atonement made by Christ on the Cross. If the Lord's Supper could be restored to what it was in the first century, the church would love one another and would sweep aside every heresy. Today's study is perhaps one of the most important of all.

What was happening in the Corinthian Church in 1 Corinthians 11?

The first group (the wealthy class) arrived early and ate and drank, leaving little or nothing for the second group (their slaves) that arrived later. As a result, the second group left the Lord's Supper while still hungry and thirsty.

These are spots in your feasts of charity.

Jude 12 These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots;

There are divisions among you and heresies.

1 Corinthians 11:17-19 Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse. For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you; and I partly believe it. For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

Let love be without dissimulation.

Romans 12:9 Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

Galatians 2:13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

Webster's 1828 Dictionary
dissimulation

DISSIMULATION, n. L., to make like; like. The act of dissembling; a hiding under a false appearance; a feigning; false pretension; hypocrisy. Dissimulation may be simply concealment of the opinions, sentiments or purpose; but it includes also the assuming of a false or counterfeit appearance which conceals the real opinions or purpose. Dissimulation among statesmen is sometimes regarded as a necessary vice, or as no vice at all.

Which heresy was Paul addressing in 1 Corinthian 11?

The first group (the wealthy class) arrived early and ate and drank, leaving little or nothing for the second group (their slaves) that arrived later. As a result, the second group left the Lord's Supper while still hungry and thirsty.

1 Corinthians 11:21 For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

- During 'mass,' the Roman Catholic Priest places a tiny wafer, a mere morsel, a mouthful into the mouths of the often poor and poverty-stricken classes of Roman Catholics, who afterward go away while still hungry.
- During 'mass', Roman Catholic Priests withhold the cup, and later, commonly, during meals, Bishops and priests become drunk on wine. This tradition spans many centuries.

Luke 12:45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

- During 'communion' in mainstream Evangelical and Reformed churches, a tiny morsel of bread, which is not even a mouthful and a ½ ounce of wine is given church members who afterwards go away while still hungry and thirsty.

Matthew 25:41-42,45-46 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

During the Last Supper, who received a morsel (mouthful) of bread?

John 13:26-27 Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon. And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

Strong's Greek Dictionary

5596. ψωμίον psomion (psōmíon)

a crumb or morsel (as if rubbed off), i.e. a mouthful:—sop.

Is there another example of a rich man eating and drinking while a poor man only eats the crumbs that are left over?

Luke 16:19-21 There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day; And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores, And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

What happened to the rich man?

Luke 16:22-26 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried; And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

How was the Corinthian Church divided?

The first group was from among the wealthier classes of society. The second group was likely their slaves.

1 Corinthians 11:22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

Were there any other churches dividing the rich from the poor?

James 2:1-7 My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment; And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool: Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts? Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him? But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats? Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

Pharisees love the uppermost seats in the synagogues.

Luke 11:43 Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

Showing wealthier persons respect over the poor is sin/

James 2:9-12 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

Eating and drinking unworthily results in damnation.

Dividing the wealthy from the poor and leaving little for the poor resulted in damnation to the wealthy.

1 Corinthians 11:27-30 Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

Luke 14:12-14 Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

What should the poor do when looked upon unequally by the wealthier members in the church?

Luke 17:7-10 But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat? And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

When ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

1 Corinthians 11:33-34 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another. And if any man hunger, let him eat at home; that ye come not together unto condemnation. And the rest will I set in order when I come.

This Do in Remembrance of Me

Luke 22:14-20 And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

1 Corinthians 15:1-4 ¶ Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:

1 Corinthians 11:23-26 ¶ For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

Grammarly Premium (a professional grammar checker) would update 'This Do in Remembrance of Me' and render it, 'This is in Remembrance of Me.' This is precisely the position that Protestants have taken since the times of Martin Luther, John Calvin, and John Knox. The Lord's Supper is symbolic and intended by Christ to be an opportunity to remember what Christ accomplished on the Cross. Let's settle the whole matter now and prove it.

The Passover

The Passover itself was in remembrance of the tenth plague and the final night of the Hebrews in Egypt. The Passover lamb, year by year, did not save Israel from Egypt year by year. It was merely symbolic and a reminder. The only lamb that saved their firstborn was slain in 1446 BC when they applied its blood over the doorposts of their houses with hyssop.

The Lord's Supper is intended to remind us of the Gospel.

Religion would have us believe that bread and wine itself save us. Do not be deceived. Remember Christ's flesh and his blood. Go back in your mind to April 1, 33 AD. Remember the death of Christ on the Cross. Salvation is paid in full by the blood of Jesus Christ shed at Calvary. Jesus died once. We can only hear this good news; we cannot reenact it or recrucify him through the symbols of bread and wine.

Remember Christ's flesh and his blood.

Give it a try right now! Remember Christ's flesh and his blood. Do not trust in material bread and wine, but in Christ's real flesh and real blood that was shed for you on April 1, 33 AD. Israel did not think the Passover lamb that was sacrificed at the precise moment Jesus died in 33 AD was more significant than the lamb that was slain in 1446 BC to save their firstborn. Israel knew the year-by-year Passover lamb was symbolic as a reminder of the Exodus.

Idolatry vs. the Gospel.

True worship is by faith in God. Idolatry is the worship of an object made by the hands of men. Above the Ark of the Covenant, there were no images of God, only cherubim, one on the left and one on the right, with an empty space in the middle. If we trust in the material bread and wine to impart grace or merit, believing in them instead of Christ himself, it is idolatry. At the heart of Roman Catholicism is idolatry. The veneration of bread and wine, the veneration of Mary and the saints, the veneration of the Pope, and a thousand so-called holy pilgrimages to venerate a million so-called holy relics.

The Roman soldiers not only beheld the wood of the true cross, but they also touched it and handled the nails that they drove into Christ's body. Was it wood and iron nails that saved us, or is it the blood of Christ alone that was sprinkled from the cross for six hours that saved us? We cannot travel to view the blood of Christ. We can only hear the gospel in Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John and in Isaiah 53 and believe Jesus's death on the Cross atoned for the sins of the world by faith alone.

How often should we eat bread and drink wine in remembrance of Christ's death on the Cross?

As Oft as You Drink It

1 Corinthians 11:25-26. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

This Do in Remembrance of Me

Remembering the flesh and blood of Jesus Christ is the the very essence of the Gospel itself. Please wake up, child. You have been asleep; it is time to wake up and view the sunrise. It is a new day. Christ is risen! He is no longer in the tomb. But we must remember what happened three days earlier.

Romans 5:10-11 For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life. And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the Apostles and elders about this question. And being brought on their way by the Church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the Brethren. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the Gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews? We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of The Law, but by the Faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the Faith of Christ, and not by the works of The Law: for by the works of The Law shall no flesh be justified. But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of Sin? God forbid. ...

For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. Institutional Church Denominations.

The Apostles in the First Century Started House Churches

House Churches are the only churches in the New Testament. Starting in the second century, cathedrals were built on top of the first house churches long after the first generation of the Church and the apostles had died.

Christians worldwide believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ, the Trinity comprising the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, and the authority of Scripture as the Word of God. However, despite these shared beliefs, a vast number of Christians have split into various denominations. The differences between these denominations can range from their worship styles to their interpretations of theological teachings.

Roman Catholic Church

In 607 AD, Pope Boniface III received a decree from the Byzantine Emperor Phocas declaring the Roman See (the Diocese of Rome) as the "head of all the Churches" and the Pope as the "Universal Bishop." This decree solidified the Pope's primacy over other bishops and marked a crucial step in the establishment of papal supremacy. Its headquarters are located in Vatican City. Today, around 18.7% of the U.S. population, totaling around 62 million people, identifies as Roman Catholics, illustrating the enduring influence of this denomination.

1260 years later, in 1867, the Papal States, which were territories in central Italy governed by the Pope, faced significant challenges due to the ongoing process of Italian unification. Forces aligned with the Italian nationalist movement sought to unify the various Italian states, including the Papal States, into a single nation-state.

During this time, conflicts and military actions involving the Papal States occurred. In 1860, some territories were annexed by the Kingdom of Sardinia. By 1870, with the capture of Rome, the process of Italian unification was completed. As a result, the Papal States ceased to exist, and Rome became the capital of the newly unified Kingdom of Italy.

During the Dark Ages, the Papacy conducted an Inquisition, which gave the state authority to kill the saints. During this time, no one in Europe could buy, sell, or conduct business without approval and license from the Roman Catholic Church.

Eastern Orthodox Church

The first division in Christianity occurred in the Great Schism of 1054 when the Eastern Orthodox Church separated from the Roman Catholic Church. The Eastern Orthodox Church contested the authority of the Pope and emphasized a collective consensus of Bishops. Other differences included the use of leavened bread and Greek text in the Eastern Orthodox Church. There are between 1 and 6 million members of the Eastern Orthodox Church in America.

Church of England

Formed in 16th-century England, the Church of England was the first major Protestant denomination of Christianity. It was associated with the reign of King Henry VIII, which prompted many individuals across Europe to break away from the Roman Catholic Church.

Puritanism

Upon the formation of the Church of England, the Puritanism movement emerged in the late 16th century. The Puritans sought a simpler form of worship, emphasized personal holiness, and stressed the need to lead a devout life through simple living, frugality, and hard work. Their influence on the American colonies through immigration was significant, and their impact can still be observed in the cultural and social landscape of America today.

Lutheranism

The first Protestant denomination to break away from Catholicism was Lutheranism, which was a Reformation movement in Germany in the 16th century. This division was caused by the excessive practices of the Roman Catholic Church at that time. The German monk Martin Luther believed that these practices contradicted true Christianity. Today, there are 3.3 million members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

Presbyterianism

Drawing inspiration from the 16th-century Protestant Reformation, Presbyterianism was established based on the doctrines of John Knox and John Calvin. It entails a system of elected elders in the Church. It emphasizes simple worship, with followers concentrating on missionary work and addressing social injustice. Today, there are over 1 million Presbyterians in America.

Baptist

Baptists originated in England during the 17th century and were influenced by the Puritanism movement. The Southern Baptist Convention is a significant denomination in the United States. This denomination advocates for the complete immersion of an individual during baptism as a way to cleanse all sin. There are 50 million Baptists in America, constituting 15.3% of the country's population and a third of all American Protestants.

Methodism

Founded in 18th-century England by John Wesley, Methodism positioned itself as a "renewal movement" aligned with Anglicanism. The United Methodist Church is a significant denomination in America. Wesley inspired working-class individuals who were often overlooked by other churches and emphasized salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. Presently, there are 6.5 million Methodists in America.

Mormonism

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, also known as Mormonism, is a 19th-century Christian denomination founded by Joseph Smith. This group views the Book of Mormon as having equal importance to the Bible. Currently, there are approximately 6.5 million Mormons in America.

Episcopal Church

The Episcopal Church in America, considered an American branch of the Church of England, has a current membership of around 1.5 million. This denomination has some practices in common with the Anglican Church. It maintains the Nicene Creed as a statement of faith, as also used in the Church of England and the Roman Catholic Church.

Seventh-Day Adventist

The Seventh-day Adventist denomination, founded in the 19th century, observes the Sabbath on Saturdays in accordance with the Fourth Commandment, which is a significant departure from the Sunday observance of other Christian denominations. This denomination also promotes vegetarianism and abstains from alcohol and tobacco, reflecting a unique set of beliefs and practices that may pique the interest of the audience. Today, over 1 million Seventh-day Adventists in America adhere to these distinctive principles.

Jehovah's Witness

The Jehovah's Witness denomination in America has about 2.5 million members and is growing every day. Founded in the late 19th century, followers of Jehovah's Witness believe that Jesus Christ is the highest creation of God and that we are currently living in the final days.

Church of the Nazarene

The Church of the Nazarene is a relatively small Christian denomination in America, with around 650,000 members. Established in the late 19th century, it is dedicated to propagating the Gospel and striving for holiness.

Pentecostalism

Christianity's Pentecostal denomination was created in the early 20th century and has amassed a staggering 65 million followers across America. This denomination focuses on experiencing the Holy Spirit with many followers "speaking in tongues" and witnessing practices of divine healing.

Assemblies of God

The Assemblies of God denomination has more than 13,000 churches and 3 million members in America. It was founded in 1914 and is influenced by Pentecostal Christianity, making it a relatively new denomination.

Quakers

The Religious Society of Friends, also known as Quakers, is a Christian denomination that advocates simplicity, pacifism, and silent worship. Quakers uphold strong moral values, reject materialism, and promote equality for all individuals. Quaker women have played a significant role in the movement since its inception, and all Quakers have been outspoken opponents of slavery and the mistreatment of Native Americans. Presently, there are approximately 75,000 Quakers in America.

Christian Science Church

The Christian Science Church was established in the late 19th century. It promotes the belief that sickness, death, and sin are illusions that can be overcome through spiritual empowerment. The Church offers spiritual treatments for those seeking healing. Currently, there are approximately 300,000 members of the Christian Science Church in America.

First Century House Churches

The First-Century House Church was Patterned After Synagogues

Ancient Synagogues

Ancient synagogues were small compared with modern cathedrals and churches. Only those living within a “Sabbath day's journey” (2000 feet) attended. Everyone sat in a square. Everyone who attended the synagogue was expected to be involved.

Every male 12 & older was expected to read the scriptures. It was part of his religious training. He was given this opportunity to read a scripture he didn't understand and get the help of the elderly men in the synagogue. As the next person in line, the young man would stand in the center of the synagogue and read so that everyone could see and hear him. It was the scriptures, not the one reading them, that was exalted. In this way, each male over the age of 12 equally took turns reading a short portion from the holy scriptures and then sat down. After the scriptures were read, every man who desired to do so took turns responding to what was read. After everyone was finished speaking and responding in an orderly fashion, the next person in line to read would stand in the middle, read a short portion of scripture, sit down, and so forth.

The First Century House Church

While the apostles were still alive, the church was the people who believed in Jesus Christ and met for worship *in the home of one of the believers.

Everyone sat in a square or circle. The one next to read stood in the center so everyone in the house could see and hear what was being read. The most prized writings were the four gospels, the letters of Paul or one of the other eyewitnesses of Jesus Christ after the resurrection—the Apostles.

Do you want to understand the Scriptures?

Each male over the age of 12 took turns reading a short portion of the scriptures. He read something that he wanted help to understand and then sat down. Then, all the older Christians took turns in an orderly fashion, from youngest to oldest, responding to what was read. After everyone had finished speaking and edifying one another, the next person read from the scriptures something that he wanted help to understand and then sat down, and so forth.

The Early Christian Church

A young man has just finished reading a few verses from the scriptures (usually less than 2 minutes' worth of reading), and sits down. Everyone is sitting in a circle or a square; There are only a couple dozen people in the home. Everyone, in an orderly fashion, from youngest to oldest, took turns sharing what the Holy Ghost had put in their hearts concerning what they heard while the scriptures were being read. There was an elder present who would speak up if an error was made. These first-century house meetings were intensely interesting. No one knew what topics or what scriptures would be discussed in advance. Everyone was given a chance to read the scriptures, and they needed help understanding and had an opportunity to practice answering to defend their faith—every week. The house church trained everyone on how to be Christians and defend the faith.

After Reading the Scriptures, There Is A “Love Feast”

After everyone had their fill of scriptures and edified each other, the women presented to the whole church a love feast filled with all manner of delicious food. While the bread is being passed around and eaten, everyone remembers the broken body of Jesus Christ on the Cross. While the fruit of the vine is being passed around the room for everyone to drink from, the church remembers the blood of Jesus that was sprinkled around the Cross for 6 hours for their sins.

How the Early Church Used the Money That Was Collected

By the time church ends everyone has had a chance to talk to one another and is intimately acquainted with each other's lives. Is all caught up on what happened during the week. Help is offered to any of the poor who need it, and no one goes away wanting anything.

The collections were made for the poor, the widows and the fatherless, and anyone else that had a desperate need. No one had to worry about their daily needs.

Love Your Neighbor

Go two thousand feet in every direction from your home, which is about 4 city blocks. Knock on every neighbor's door, and find as many Christians as you can. Then invite them to your home! Ask each family to bring their bibles and a dish of food to share with everyone after the Bible reading & open discussion. Go from house to house giving each family an opportunity to host the home church in their own homes each week, and take up collections to help the poor and needy in your community.

Ye Are Taught of God to Love One Another.

Next, imagine the unbelievers in town and how they would sit up and take notice. The Christians in town help each other, meet in each other's homes, and love each other. The Christians help the poor, no one that has any need among them is neglected. Christians eat together and are more like a family, than in modern churches.

Invite Your Neighbors to Your Home

Finally imagine how easy it is, to invite unbelievers to visit your home for a meal. Invite them to observe a Bible reading, and enjoy a feast afterward. Who among the thousands of lonely people in your town could turn an offer like that down?

Are there too many for one house church? That is okay! It's time to grow into a community of house churches! Trust each house church to God, that the Holy Spirit will lead each one of them. Where two or three are gathered in Jesus's name, Jesus is there!

What Do You Need to Get Started?

All you need to start a home church is the Holy Bible. If you have a Bible you have everything you need. Invite other Christians and take turns going from house to house. Each able family should bring delicious food to share with everyone afterward. Make sure there is bread and grape juice! Make the time to share the bread and grape juice special. Take up a collection to be used for the poor in your community and also for missionary outreach in your area.

How To Discover Truth?

1. Set aside all preconceived ideas. Opinions don't matter! The Holy Bible is the only source of truth!
2. Find 100% of the verses in the Holy Bible on each topic discussed. Don't leave a single verse out!

3. Believe whatever the Bible says. Conclusions must always line up with 100% of the Bible's verses discovered during Step #2

A Helpful Example: There are approximately 60 verses that discuss what happens at death in the Bible. 95% of these verses teach the exact same thing, so clearly that a child can see it and understand them. Then on the opposite side, there are 1-2 verses that appear to teach something different. So what is the truth? Obviously, we ought to take our stand with the weightier 95% of these verses and what they teach us. The 5% or 1-2 verses that appear to teach something different need to be studied more carefully. In the end, it is always demonstrated that there is 100% unity in the scriptures. Preconceived ideas from what we have been taught over a lifetime might have been preventing us from seeing it.

Most of the major topics in the Bible have 30-40 verses that mention them.

1. Step 1. Set aside all preconceived ideas. Opinions don't matter! The Holy Bible is the only source of truth!
2. Step 2. Find 100% of the 30-40 verses that speak about the topic being discussed.
3. Step 3. Then, determine what 95% of these verses clearly teach and believe whatever those verses teach. After you study the other 5% of these verses more closely, you will always discover 100% unity in the scriptures on every topic.

How Heresy Occurs.

There will always be someone who stubbornly holds on to the "5% or 1-2 verses" and ignores the "95% or 35+ verses" and will not be convinced no matter how many bible texts you show them. That is one way that heresies come into the church.

Hero Worship

Another way heresies enter the church is through "hero worship." A famous church father or person from Church History writes or says something, and no matter how many verses you show them from the Holy Bible, they won't go against their favorite church hero. Do not be deceived by them. This type of person is NOT "a Bible-alone Christian."

Romans 16:17 ¶ Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them.

Do not argue or debate with a heretic; rather, reject them from your home!

Titus 3:10. A man that is an heretick after the first and second admonition reject;

House Churches the Only Churches in the Bible

The Apostles Started House Churches; they were not the Builders of Grand Cathedrals.

Acts 2:46-47 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

Acts 8:3 As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

Romans 16:5 Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my wellbeloved Epaenetus, who is the firstfruits of Achaia unto Christ.

1 Corinthians 16:19 ¶ The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

Colossians 4:15 Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the church which is in his house.

1 Timothy 3:5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

1 Timothy 3:15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

Philemon 2 And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellowsoldier, and to the church in thy house:

Houses that Followed Peter Were Not Set Above Other Houses

1 Corinthians 1:11-13 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

1 Corinthians 2:2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

1 Corinthians 3:3-6 For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men? For while one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; are ye not carnal? ¶ Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man? I have planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase.

1 Corinthians 3:9 For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

1 Corinthians 3:22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours;

1 Corinthians 4:6 And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

How to do a "House Church" or Home Bible Study Group

All that is needed is your Bibles. A pastor and a sermon is not necessary! You can study topically or work your way through a book of the Bible, one verse at a time.

1. Start by inviting people you see regularly to "join some friends and our families for a Bible study. There will be a meal afterward."
2. Start with prayer requests, write them down, and update the list each week.
3. Read and study the Bible. Every male over the age of 12, take turns reading a verse or two. Allow the young men to choose something they want help understanding. In an orderly fashion, starting with the young men, working your way up to the elderly, find related verses that can help explain and discuss what was read.
4. Gather a collection / financial offerings to help anyone in need, especially those of your own house church.
5. Remember the body and blood of Christ, examine yourselves, wait for each other to be ready, then enjoy a meal together,

“Not for that we have dominion over your faith” 2 Corinthians 1:24

Q. Which Church Do You Go To?

- “I go to the church at the house of My family and I are followers of Christ. We are called Christians.”

“All Ye Are Brethren”

But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ. Matthew 23:8-10

Evangelists, Bishops, Elders & Deacons

Evangelists

Acts 6:1-7 ¶ And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables. Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch: Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

Acts 21:8 ¶ And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Caesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

2 Timothy 4:5 But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.

Bishops

Timothy 3:1-7 ¶ This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work. A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach; Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous; One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity; (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?) Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

Acts 20:28 Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

Philippians 1:1 ¶ Paul and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:

1 Timothy 3:2 A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

2 Timothy 4:22 The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen. The second epistle unto Timotheus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was brought before Nero the second time.

Titus 1:7 For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

Titus 3:15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen. It was written to Titus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

1 Peter 2:25 For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

Elders

1 Timothy 5:1 ¶ Rebuke not an elder, but intreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

1 Timothy 5:17 Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

1 Timothy 5:19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

Titus 1:5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

Hebrews 11:1-2 ¶ Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. For by it the elders obtained a good report.

James 5:14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

1 Peter 5:1 ¶ The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

1 Peter 5:5 ¶ Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

2 John 1 ¶ The elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

3 John 1 ¶ The elder unto the wellbeloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

Deacons

Philippians 1:1 ¶ Paul and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:

1 Timothy 3:8-13 ¶ Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless. Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things. Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. For they that have used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

Ministers & Pastors

“All Ye Are Brethren”

But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ. Matthew 23:8-10

Romans 12:7 Or ministry, let us wait on our* ministering: or he that teacheth, on teaching;

1 Corinthians 12:29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?

1 Peter 5:1-3 ¶ The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed: Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

Not Greedy of Filthy Lucre

Isaiah 56:11 Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

1 Timothy 3:3 Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

1 Timothy 3:8 ¶ Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

Jude 11 Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

Not Adorned with Costly Array & Jewelry

Matthew 11:7-8 ¶ And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, *What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.*

1 Timothy 2:9-10 ¶ In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with broided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array; But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

1 Peter 3:1-6 ¶ Likewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives; While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear. Whose adorning let it not be that outward *adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel; But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands: Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

Preach the Word—Not Philosophy & Fables

Colossians 2:8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.

Deuteronomy 6:12 Then beware lest thou forget the LORD, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

Matthew 7:15 ¶ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

Matthew 16:6 Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

Philippians 3:2 Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision.

2 Peter 3:17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.

Colossians 2:18 Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

Song of Solomon 2:15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

Jeremiah 29:8 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed.

Hebrews 13:9 Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

2 John 8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

Acts 17:18 Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

Acts 17:32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.

Romans 1:21-22 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

1 Corinthians 1:19-23 For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom: But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

1 Corinthians 3:18-19 ¶ Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

2 Timothy 2:18 Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

Not after the commandments and doctrines of men

Colossians 2:22 Which all are to perish with the using;) after the commandments and doctrines of men?

Matthew 15:2-9 Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition. Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying, This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

Mark 7:3-13 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders. And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brassen vessels, and of tables. Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands? He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do. And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death: But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free. And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother; Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

Galatians 1:14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

Your Adversary the Devil, as a Roaring Lion—Part 1.

By David Michael Curtis

David Michael Curtis wrote the document "Your Adversary the Devil, as a Roaring Lion, Walketh About, Seeking Whom He May Devour—Part 1." It discusses various topics related to Christian beliefs and practices, particularly the author's interpretation of scripture and critique of modern churches.

Key points from the document include:

- Emphasis on house churches: The author advocates for Christians to meet in independent house churches rather than established denominations to avoid heresy.
- Critique of paid ministers: The document argues against paid ministers, stating that they have no scriptural basis and that church funds should be used to support widows, orphans, and prisoners.
- Authority of scripture: The author emphasizes the Bible's authority and criticizes selective interpretation of its teachings.
- Warning against Bible universities: The document expresses skepticism towards ministers who attended Bible universities, citing Jesus's command not to call anyone "rabbi" or "teacher."
- Disorderly conduct: The author discusses the concept of "disorderly conduct" in the context of those who refuse to work and support their families, including paid ministers in their view.
- Rejection of the Levitical priesthood analogy: The document refutes the argument that modern ministers should be supported like Levitical priests of the Old Testament.

In essence, the document presents a specific interpretation of Christian teachings, advocating for a return to what the author believes is the early Church's original model.

Dear Friends,

Introduction: A Precarious Situation.

Be sober and vigilant, for your adversary, the devil, seeks to devour you like a lion. This message may come across as cynical, but I cannot ignore the precarious situation we find ourselves in. We are at the end of the world, and countless denominations teach a multitude of different doctrines, making the situation incomprehensible. Every Church is divided from every other Church, except under the guise of ecumenism. This promotes the idea that we should overlook each other's doctrinal differences in the name of unity and tolerate these differences.

The Early Church Model vs. Established Institutions.

I emphasize that Jesus warned us to be aware of the teachings of religious leaders. When the apostles started the Church, they could have chosen to be disciples of the rabbis in established synagogues. However, that was not the path they took. The disciples of Jesus Christ, who began the churches around the Roman Empire, chose to follow the apostolic doctrine and started house churches. They remained separate from the Jewish synagogues.

While rabbis had many valuable teachings that were beneficial, early Christians did not gather in synagogues; instead, they met in homes. They were not disciples of the rabbis and distinguished themselves from Judaism and the established institutional Church of Israel by meeting in houses. This choice laid the foundation for the Church, and the gates of Hell cannot prevail against it.

Deviation in Modern Churches and the Need for Separation.

Modern-day churches have strayed from this foundation. If we were to meet in houses that are not connected through a denomination but independent, each with its own elder and deacon, we would be returning to the original model established by Christ and the Apostles.

Each Church is quarantined, much like during COVID-19 when people were on lockdown to prevent the virus from spreading from house to house. While Christians are called to love one another, that's not the type of separation I'm referring to.

Quarantine from Heresy.

What I'm suggesting is that if we gather in house churches, we are quarantined from heresy, false doctrines, and false prophets. We need to shield ourselves from other gospels. By shutting down platforms like YouTube, TikTok, and Facebook, as well as avoiding all sermons, we can protect ourselves from the various teachings that are out there. Instead, we should focus on forming house churches to ensure we are safe from the infection of heresy. Heresy can be dangerous and could lead to condemnation on Judgment Day.

Understanding the Modern Christian Landscape.

I want to distinguish my message from the idea of unity among Christians and the love we have for one another. It's essential to highlight that we should not be gullible or carried away by every wind of doctrine. Today, my message may seem cynical. Still, I want to share my views on the modern Christian landscape, including the various institutional churches and denominations, as well as the ministers who are paid to deliver sermons and have attended Bible universities.

Critique of Paid Ministers.

I want to surprise those who may not have heard my perspective: I advise avoiding ministers who are paid to preach sermons. Why? First, a pastor, bishop, elder, and presbyter all refer to the same office; there is no scriptural example of elders delivering paid sermons. In fact, we read that financial support should only be extended to individuals who are in prison and unable to work for themselves. In the first century, if someone was imprisoned, it was typically their loved ones and friends who supplied for their needs, or else they went hungry.

Support for Prisoners in the Early Church.

The Roman Empire did not provide food or clothing for prisoners. This was the case during the time of Paul, Timothy, and the early evangelists who traveled to spread their message. As a result of their faithful ministry, they were often imprisoned. They relied on house churches to meet their needs, such as providing a coat to keep them warm or money for food. Unfortunately, many of these house churches overlooked the Apostle Paul's needs during his imprisonment. According to Scripture, only the Philippians extended their support to him.

Paul's Example: Self-Sufficiency.

Under normal circumstances, Paul did not ask for donations. He was a tentmaker by trade, which allowed him to support himself and also provide for his companions who traveled with him for years. He set an example by not wanting to give anyone the impression that he preached Christ for monetary gain. Therefore, whenever he was free to travel as an evangelist, he worked hard to provide for himself. He instructed the churches he established to do the same. He urged the men in these house churches to find work to support their families and, by extension, to care for widows and orphans who had no earthly support after losing their husbands.

True Religion: Caring for the Needy.

James pointed out that true religion is caring for widows and orphans. This care is essential because they often lack any support, much like prisoners in the first century. Offerings collected on the first day of the week were to aid those without other means of support. This is what money was intended for.

Biblical Use of Church Funds.

Elders, who were non-disabled men, were expected to have jobs to support their families and, in turn, assist widows and orphans resulting from the loss of spouses. Additionally, house churches contributed financial assistance to other churches facing difficulties, such as famine. For example, a famine had been prophesied that would affect many across the Roman Empire, especially in Jerusalem. Collections were taken on the first day of the week and sent to Jerusalem to help those struggling during this crisis.

Contrast with Modern Compensation Practices.

This trend highlights that money was primarily used to assist individuals who could not support themselves. However, when possible, individuals were expected to support themselves through employment and take care of their families.

In contrast, consider modern-day elders, often referred to as pastors or ministers. Generally, they lead worship services once or twice a week, which may involve only a few hours of work and some additional hours of preparation. During the rest of the week, they have a lot of free time and are often not employed in jobs that support their families. Instead, they may rely on funds from church collections, commonly referred to as the widow and orphan fund. These funds were originally intended for those with no means of support, such as evangelists in prison or widows and orphans.

Departure from the Apostolic Model.

The early house churches founded by Peter, Paul, and Apollos collected this money specifically for those in need, not for non-disabled men who were simply elders of the Church. The expectation was not to pay for all the expenses of the elders in these house churches. What we see today with paid clergy is contrary to what is found in Scripture. Many of these men are not struggling to provide for themselves; they are instead living out what Paul refers to as disorderly conduct. They may feel free to avoid work and depend on church offerings during the week.

The Authority of Scripture.

It's important to understand that what I'm sharing isn't just a recommendation; it is a commandment from the Apostle Paul. He stated that his writings are the commandments of God. If you read Paul's letters and view his commandments as optional, then you are not interpreting them correctly. The New Testament should be approached with the understanding that it is authoritative and carries greater weight than any earthly authority.

Disrespectful Bible Interpretation.

Unfortunately, many people read the Bible disrespectfully, sifting through its teachings to claim some are applicable while disregarding others. They may follow the teachings they like and ignore those they don't. This selective approach undermines the authority of Scripture.

Foundation for Studying Scripture.

The foundation for studying the Scriptures must include recognizing that the Bible is the Word of God and is authoritative. Christ is the head of the Church, and one of His titles is the Word of God. The Word became flesh, and the Holy Spirit inspired the Scriptures so we can know God, His Son Jesus Christ, and His will for our lives.

It is essential to establish that the Bible is inspired and holds greater authority than anyone on Earth. When reading the writings of the apostles, remember that they are not merely human commandments but divine commandments from God, inspired by the Holy Spirit.

Commandment Regarding Disorderly Conduct.

Now that we have laid this foundation, let's return to our discussion. Paul commanded that if a man is walking disorderly—in this context, referring to a man unwilling to work and provide for his family—then do not associate with him. In other words, expel him from the church community until he finds employment. Paul stated that anyone who does not work and provide for their family is worse than an infidel.

Consequences of Refusal to Work.

This is not an optional message. The Apostle Paul commands that if anyone in the Church is living disorderly—refusing to work and take care of their family—you must cease fellowship with him. Expel him from the Church until he corrects this behavior.

Paid Ministers as Disorderly.

So far, we have discussed that paid ministers are behaving disorderly. They are relying on funds intended for widows and orphans while refusing to work. Despite delivering a sermon once or twice a week, they expect a full-time salary, which is contrary to the Biblical model where elders were not compensated or had their expenses covered simply for being elders.

Biblical Instruction on Supporting Families.

The apostle Paul instructed the House church that men should have jobs and take care of their own families. Families should not be a burden on the Church. Paul gave explicit instructions that collections were meant to support widows and orphans—those who could not provide for themselves, especially during times when other churches were experiencing famines. This is what the Bible teaches about money, and it's quite straightforward.

Consequences of Fellowship with Disorderly Men.

To be candid, if a man refuses to work and expects to receive a full-time salary simply for preaching a sermon once a week, then, according to Scripture, I am not allowed to fellowship with him. I cannot share a meal with him. When the Bible discusses avoiding eating with someone, it specifically refers to avoiding sharing the Lord's Supper with that person. This means you should not participate in communion with someone who won't work, who refuses to get a job and labor with his own hands to provide for himself and his family. Doing so would be a violation of one of the commandments given by the apostle Paul.

Paid Ministers and False Prophets.

Furthermore, it's important to note that there are men in ministry who expect a full-time salary, and these individuals often fall under the description of false prophets. Study the New Testament accounts of false prophets. You will find that they tend to expect a full-time salary and, in fact, often demand an excessive amount of wealth for holding their office or performing ministry in the name of Jesus Christ. So, if someone is being paid to be in ministry, I am inclined to assume that they are a false prophet because the Bible warns that these individuals pursue ministry for financial gain.

False Prophets vs. Elders and Deacons.

On one hand, the New Testament clearly describes false prophets who preach Christ for "filthy lucre's" sake—meaning for money. On the other hand, we have elders and deacons, the only two offices in the House church. There is no example in the New Testament of elders and deacons receiving a full-time salary simply for occupying these positions. These roles were voluntary, and they held no authority outside of their own House church. Their office as Elder or Deacon was specifically for that individual House church, serving a small number of people who gathered in a living room to engage in discussion together.

The Role of Elders in the Early Church.

Elders were not the center of attention. They did not preach sermons, nor were they compensated for their position. Instead, they voluntarily served the house church out of love, not for money but for the love of Christ and His Church, which met in someone's home or perhaps from house to house.

Skepticism Towards Bible University Graduates.

The next point I want to share may surprise many people. If your paid minister has gone to a Bible university, I am skeptical of them. I won't listen to their teachings or sermons. Why? Because I am a Christian, I believe that the teachings of Jesus Christ are the commandments of God. Jesus is the Lord; He is the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. He is not merely making suggestions; His teachings are commands that deserve to be obeyed.

Approaching the Gospels with Respect.

You must approach the Gospels with a healthy respect for Jesus Christ. If you don't start with the understanding that Jesus is the head of the Church and has authority as the King of Kings, then you might as well stop reading the Bible. If you approach the teachings of Jesus with an attitude that allows you to pick and choose what to follow, you're just creating a version of Jesus in your imagination. On Judgment Day, you will meet the real Jesus, not the one you've imagined. You won't encounter a custom-made Jesus who caters to your whims; rather, you will face Jesus and everything He taught.

Following Jesus and the Apostles, Not Men.

So, why don't I listen to ministers who have attended Bible university? It's because, as a Christian, I am commanded not to make any man my rabbi or teacher. Instead, I am called to study the Scriptures and follow Jesus Christ. I don't want to have any disciples or followers for myself. What I truly desire is for you to pick up your Bible and listen to Jesus above all else. I urge you to study His teachings and implement them, just as Mary at the wedding feast said, "Whatever He tells you to do, do it." That is my message: you should be following Jesus Christ.

Secondly, if you choose to follow anyone else, it should be the eyewitnesses, the apostles, who wrote the New Testament. Their writings represent the commandments of God. Outside of Jesus Christ and the apostles, I encourage you to be skeptical of every church father, minister, televangelist, and author. Anyone who is not an author of the New Testament should be viewed with caution.

Warning Against False Prophets and Secret Gatherings.

Jesus warned us about false prophets and false Christs. He said that if someone claims to possess Christ in a secret place, we should not go forth. In my small town of Arcadia, with around 8,000 residents, there's a church on almost every corner claiming to have Christ and inviting people to enter their private spaces to learn about Him. Jesus warned us that there would be many false Christs and prophets and instructed us not to go into secret rooms. Do not call anyone your rabbi or make any man your teacher; follow Christ.

Direct Access to Scripture.

Jesus Christ ordained the apostles, personally selecting them, including the apostle Paul. As followers, we ought to listen to the teachings of the apostles and Jesus Christ directly. We don't need an intercessor between us and the Bible.

Bible Universities Contradict Jesus' Command.

You might wonder why I don't listen to the teachings of people who have attended Bible universities. The reason is that they learned under certain professors, whom they refer to as doctors, theologians, or scholars. The entire act of attending a Bible university and studying under a professor contradicts a clear commandment of Jesus Christ. He instructed us not to call anyone “rabbi.” I challenge you to reconcile this: Jesus said not to become anyone’s disciple. Yet, the very premise of attending a Bible university is to become a disciple of the professors there, effectively making them your rabbi. This situation violates the commandment given by Jesus Christ.

Distinction from Judaism and Synagogue Practices.

As a Christian, it’s important to recognize that the apostles and the early Church did not attend the synagogues or learn from the teachings of the rabbis. Jesus warned against learning from the Pharisees, Sadducees, scribes, and lawyers. He explicitly told his disciples to avoid these sources of learning.

Early Church Gatherings and Leadership.

In the early Church, there was a clear distinction between Christians and Jews. Christians separated themselves and met in homes, where they had elders and deacons who were not financially compensated for their service. They served their local house church, which typically consisted of less than 35 people. Just like everyone else, they sat on the floor in the living room. These individuals were not the center of attention and did not deliver sermons; the practice of bishops giving sermons began in the 4th century, which is a historical fact.

Contrast with Modern Church Structures and Lifestyles.

There were no pulpit or pews in these gatherings. Everyone participated equally; they discussed matters, sang together, prayed together, and shared meals. No one person dominated the proceedings. This is why it makes sense that the early Church did not single out someone like an elder for a full-time salary or to cover extravagant expenses. There was no push to ensure anyone had a lavish lifestyle, like buying a mansion or a $35 million jet for extravagant vacations around the world.

Example of Extravagance.

Benny Hinn is known to stay at some of the most expensive hotels in the world, particularly in Dubai, where he stays on the top floor, which costs $1 million a night. This extravagant lifestyle is a common practice for him. However, the Scriptures teach that we should collect for people experiencing poverty, including widows and orphans. Benny Hinn is living a life that would make kings blush, and he is doing so by relying on funds meant for widows and orphans.

Discernment Regarding Paid Ministry.

The Bible warns us about false prophets who preach Christ for financial gain. If someone is receiving money for what they call ministry, I do not listen to them. Jesus cautioned us about false prophets and false Christs, instructing us not to heed their calls.

Application of Scriptural Commands.

We should have a healthy respect for the Bible as the Word of God. When Jesus and the apostles issue commands, we ought to follow their teachings and apply them to our lives. In the case of someone who is being paid for ministry, much like false prophets do, we must be discerning. If rabbis have taught a person and they merely mimic their teachings without original thought, we must be cautious. The Bible instructs us not to associate with such individuals. If they refuse to work with their hands, despite being capable, the Bible advises us not to eat with them and to reject them from our homes.

Addressing the Levitical Priesthood Argument.

Preaching a message like this positions me against every minister on the planet. I don't expect anyone in ministry to support or agree with my perspective; in fact, I anticipate they will oppose it vehemently. One argument they might raise is that the Levitical priests were supported by tithes collected from all of Israel, suggesting that ministers today should also be supported in this way.

The Abolishment of the Old Covenant.

However, this argument is flawed. The Levitical priests performed services at the temple, which was abolished in 70 AD when the temple was destroyed. The sacrifice of Jesus Christ fulfilled all the services that the temple represented. We no longer need priests to offer animal sacrifices or perform cleansing rituals. Everything the temple stood for has been satisfied and fulfilled through the one offering of Jesus Christ, allowing everyone, not just the Levitical priests, to have their sins washed away through direct faith in Him. We do not require an intercessor standing between us and God to perform services at a temple or sanctuary. The entire system established by the Law of Moses has been abolished.

The Church is Not Israel.

Every individual is capable of hearing the gospel, believing in it, and, by the grace of God, responding with repentance, water baptism, and receiving the Holy Spirit. They can be sealed until the day of redemption and bear fruit. Everyone can do this without a Levitical priest. The pastor preaching a sermon is not a priest in the sense of the law of Moses. We need to understand that the old covenant has been abolished; it is no longer in effect. We are not the nation of Israel; we are Christians—the Church.

Tithes were for the Levitical Priests at the Temple.

The nation of Israel collected tithes from all that they produced and gave those tithes to the Levitical priests, who were set apart to perform duties and services at the sanctuary. That system no longer exists; the temple was destroyed in 70 AD. If you want to give a tithe, there is no one to give it to, as tithes were commanded to be given to Levitical priests at the temple.

Absence of Levitical Priests Today.

If you go to Jerusalem looking for the temple, you won't find it. Search the world over for Levitical priests, and you won't find them. Their genealogical records were destroyed when the temple was destroyed, making it impossible for anyone to trace their lineage back to Aaron or Levi. Without genealogical records to verify descent from the tribe of Levi, there are no Levitical priests. Therefore, if you want to give a tithe, you would need to find a Levite. Your minister is not a Levite; if he claims he is, ask for genealogical records proving he can trace his ancestry back to the tribe of Levi. If he cannot provide that proof, you do not owe him a tithe.

May God's grace and peace be with you.
In Jesus Christ's name. Amen.

Mr. David Michael Curtis

Your Adversary the Devil, as a Roaring Lion—Part 2.

By David Michael Curtis

"Your Adversary the Devil, as a Roaring Lion, Walketh About, Seeking Whom He May Devour—Part 2.pdf" is an article written by David Michael Curtis.

The document discusses several key points:

- Paid Ministers vs. Unpaid Elders and Deacons: The document argues that elders and deacons in the early Church were not paid, whereas paid ministers are a modern concept. It questions the use of the scripture "the laborer is worthy of his hire" to justify salaries for church leaders.
- False Shepherds and True Men of God: It distinguishes between those who are called pastors and those who truly follow the Bible's teachings. True men of God must obey, study, and follow the Bible, not just deliver good teachings.
- Reliance on Christ vs. Human Teachers: The document emphasizes relying on Christ and the Holy Spirit for guidance rather than intermediaries or human teachers. It cautions against ministers who demand unquestioning obedience and assert authority superior to others.
- Financial Motivations of Paid Ministers: It suggests that paid ministers might be inclined to defend their position due to financial reliance on church offerings.
- House Churches vs. Institutional Churches: The article promotes the idea of gathering in house churches rather than attending institutional churches, suggesting that house churches protect families from "heresy" and "false teachings."
- Personal Study of the Bible: It encourages individuals to study the Bible for themselves and verify teachings with scripture, following the example of the Bereans in Acts 17:11.
- The Danger of Heresy: The document likens heresy to a virus that spreads through false prophets and encourages individuals to protect their families from it.
- Personal Experience and Unpaid Ministry: David Michael Curtis shares his personal experience of choosing not to be a paid minister, working for a living (DoorDash), and sharing his teachings freely without asking for donations.
- Critique of Bible Universities and Paid Sermons: The article expresses concerns about ministers who have been educated at Bible universities and those who receive full-time salaries for delivering sermons.

- Rejection of Denomination Building: David Michael Curtis explains that he intentionally avoids starting a new denomination and does not seek personal gain from his teachings.

In essence, the document advocates for a return to what the author believes are the practices of the early Church, emphasizing personal Bible study, house churches, and unpaid ministry, while warning against false teachers and the influence of modern institutional churches.

Dear Friends,

Addressing "The Laborer is Worthy of His Hire."

Next, let's consider how a paid minister might respond to the argument that "the laborer is worthy of his hire." First, we should examine the context in which this was stated. The Apostle Paul was in a tight situation, imprisoned in Rome, where prisoners were not provided food. This warranted support from house churches.

Paid Ministers vs. Unpaid Elders and Deacons.

It's important to note that elders and deacons in the early Church were not paid; they did not receive a salary. In fact, in modern churches, those considered elders and deacons typically volunteer their service and consider it an honor to serve in those roles. They do not expect to be compensated. The only individuals who typically expect payment are ministers and administrators.

Misapplication of Scripture for Compensation.

Therefore, using the argument that "the laborer is worthy of his hire" does not effectively support the idea that elders and deacons should receive salaries. If one concludes that elders and deacons ought to be paid and receive full-time salaries, then all elders and deacons worldwide should begin to receive such salaries. However, I am not aware of any churches that follow this practice; none that I know of provide salaries for these offices.

The Role of a Pastor and False Shepherds.

A pastor is essentially a shepherd. The term "pastor" refers to someone who guides and cares for a congregation, much like a shepherd does for their flock. However, it's important to recognize that there are false shepherds and false prophets among those who claim to be pastors. Just because someone is called a pastor doesn't mean God ordains them; men have ordained many.

Obedying the Bible, Not Human Teachers.

To be a true man of God requires more than simply delivering good teachings from a pulpit. A man of God must obey the Bible, study it diligently, and follow its teachings. Jesus and the Apostle Paul emphasized that we should not rely on rabbis or teachers in the traditional sense; instead, we should go directly to Christ as the head of the Church. Our dependence should be on Christ and the Holy Spirit, who will guide us into all truth, rather than through an intermediary.

Financial Motivations of Paid Ministers.

A paid minister may feel inclined to defend their position, especially if they have purchased homes, lands, enjoyed vacations, and acquired the latest cars and technology, all funded through offerings from the Church or their followers. This financial reliance may create a reluctance to suggest that they should take on other work to support themselves.

Evaluating Teachers: Compensation and Authority.

In evaluating Bible teachers, it is essential to consider whether they are being compensated for their role and whether they perceive themselves as having authority that is superior to that of others in the Church. A minister who expects unconditional obedience without question mirrors the mindset of the papacy, where church members are expected to follow their priests, bishops, cardinals, and the pope without question.

The Berean Example of Scriptural Verification.

The Apostle Paul provided a different example in Acts 17:11, where he taught, but the Bereans studied the Scriptures to verify whether his teachings were accurate. Paul encouraged this kind of scrutiny. A pastor or minister should not feel threatened by congregants studying Scripture to confirm the truth of their teachings, as Paul welcomed this practice.

Ministers Demanding Unquestioning Obedience.

Unfortunately, I have encountered ministers who insist that we must accept their beliefs and follow their directives solely based on their authority, rather than on the truth of Scripture. Jesus reminded us that we are all brethren and equal, stating that to be the greatest, one must be the servant of all. The apostles demonstrated humility and meekness, while anyone displaying superiority, authority, or a dictatorial attitude, insisting on unquestioning obedience, follows the example of the papacy.

My Beliefs and Encouragement for Personal Study.

I want to clarify my beliefs: I'm not a Roman Catholic; I'm a Bible student. I believe that Jesus is the head of the Church and that the Bible is the ultimate authority for Christians. I encourage everyone to study the Bible for themselves. If I share something new with you and you're unsure about it, that's perfectly fine. I don't expect anyone to believe it just because I said so, nor do I expect everyone to agree with my interpretations.

Verifying Teachings with Scripture.

However, if you are a Bible student and I present something unfamiliar, I encourage you to study the scriptures like the Bereans did, to see if what I'm saying aligns with the Bible. I want to emphasize the benefits of following Jesus' commandments. If you look at the example in the New Testament, particularly regarding house churches, you'll see that they operated separately from synagogues or institutional churches.

Benefits of House Churches and Avoiding Paid Teachers.

I suggest not relying solely on people who are paid to deliver sermons or who have studied under a rabbi—essentially, the professors. There's no harm in following Jesus' commandments. In fact, there's much benefit. Just as during the COVID-19 lockdown, you were avoiding exposure to a deadly virus, I would liken heresy to a virus as well, spread by false prophets.

Heresy as a Virus.

Am I saying that every paid minister is a false prophet? No, I'm not judging anyone. What I'm doing is teaching what the scriptures say and leaving judgment up to Christ on Judgment Day. I don't know who will be saved or lost, and I hold no ill feelings toward any ministers. I want to express what the Bible teaches and leave the rest to God.

Protecting Family from Heresy.

I encourage you to visualize heresy as a virus. Right now, millions of people are being infected by heretical doctrines. I'm encouraging you to meet in homes to protect your family and loved ones from this heretical virus and to shield them from false teachings. The spread of these heretical ideas is happening faster than a pandemic, fueled by false teachers who are compensated to spread their misleading doctrines.

Safety in House Churches.

If you gather in homes with your family and loved ones and stop listening to mainstream sermons, there is no danger or harm in doing so. In fact, you will benefit by protecting yourself from the spread of false ideas. This approach is not something I invented; it is based on the teachings of the great physician, Christ. The Apostles laid the foundation for house churches, which were established when Jesus taught that we should not call anyone a rabbi. In its most direct context, this meant that early Christians were not to sit under the authority of rabbis in Jewish synagogues.

The Remedy for Heresy: Avoiding Human Rabbis.

To follow this commandment, Christians needed to separate themselves from Jews who met in synagogues and began to gather in house churches. Today, many institutional churches are perpetuating false doctrines that are divisive and filled with heresy. Jesus, the great physician, provided the remedy by instructing us not to refer to anyone as a rabbi or teacher. When you attend an institutional church, you elevate the person at the pulpit to the status of your rabbi or teacher. Many who do this trust everything that person teaches, assuming that because they attended Bible school, they must be knowledgeable.

Clarity Through House Church Setting.

By removing yourself from this dynamic and placing yourself in a house church setting, the scriptures become clearer. Their meanings are easier to understand, and you will see that the Bible accurately describes the world we live in today. The Bible's warnings against false Christs, false prophets, and false teachers accurately portray many modern institutional churches and provide instructions on how to navigate this challenging environment.

Survival Guide: Stop Listening to False Teachers.

To survive this situation, we must stop listening to their teachings, sermons, and books. We should treat these ideas like a pandemic, similar to COVID-19, because that is precisely what is happening: the world is becoming infected with heresies and doctrines of devils. Many people are being reassured of their salvation when they haven't repented, and many haven't even been baptized. This is ultimately between each individual and God, and we're not here to judge anyone.

Following Christ and Separation from the World.

We are simply trying to follow Christ. He wants us to survive in a world that seeks to engulf us, encouraging us to be separate from it. You can look at what the world defines as the Church and realize that it does not align with Scripture, and you can distance yourself from institutional churches and establish a healthy home church.

Treating Heresy as Dangerous.

You should view heresy as something dangerous that your family needs protection from. By ceasing to listen to these sermons and teachings, you can keep your family safe. If someone is being paid to deliver sermons and refuses to get a job to support their family, they are acting in disorder. There is no example in Scripture of elders and deacons having full-time salaries. The concept of labor being worthy of its hire is specifically in reference to Paul when he was in prison, relying on contributions from the Philippian Church to avoid starvation.

Personal Experience and Survival Strategy.

To conclude, everything I've shared reflects my experience in surviving a world filled with heresies and false teachers who represent different versions of Christ and different gospels. I am managing just fine because I have chosen not to be influenced by them. I no longer listen to their sermons or watch their YouTube videos. This applies to local pastors as well—I do not attend their churches or allow myself to be indoctrinated by their teachings.

Following Christ, Not Human Teachers or Paid Ministers.

I follow Christ's commandments and do not allow anyone to take the place of my teacher. I do not trust those who accept money from the widow and orphan fund to preach, nor do I accept teachings from those who have merely repeated what they learned from professors. I do not follow rabbis; I am not anyone's disciple. I am a follower of Jesus Christ. I go directly to the Bible, listen to the apostles, and respect the Bible as authoritative.

Humility as a Bible Student.

I believe the Bible holds more authority than anything I have ever written or preached. If I am wrong, I must forsake that teaching, repent, and align my understanding with Scripture. I do not approach the Bible as a teacher but rather as a student. I am not special; I hold no titles. I am just David, a Bible student. I study the King James Bible, focusing on doctrinal topics.

Accessibility of Truth.

There is nothing remarkable about me; anyone can do this. No one needs my teachings, writings, or sermons. Everything I have done in my lifetime could be forgotten, and the truth will remain in the King James Bible. God does not need me to share these truths; He has the Bible and the Holy Spirit, which are available worldwide. Topical resources like Nave's Topical Bible can be used everywhere and in any language through various Bible apps.

Why Paid Ministers Won't Teach This.

What I am pointing out may seem obvious to me through topical Bible study, but that clarity may not be evident to others who are accustomed to passively listening to sermons. Paid ministers are unlikely to teach the things I have discussed today because they will fiercely protect their income.

Target Audience: New Believers and Those Willing to Change.

This message was not intended for ministers or members of institutional churches. I do not expect them to change anything; I anticipate that they will continue as they always have. I do not believe that old wineskins can hold new wine. My audience is brand-new believers who have not yet formed the habits of passively attending Church or listening to sermons.

Putting Principles into Practice: Starting House Churches.

I am speaking to those who are willing to put these principles into practice—who would start a house church and isolate themselves from heresy. I encourage them to prevent themselves and their families from being tossed to and fro by every wind of doctrine and to follow Christ, warding off the leaven of the Pharisees that may influence their understanding of the Bible.

The Effect of Leaven on Understanding.

Those who are already members of churches have allowed their understanding of the Bible to become leavened. I am not directing my message solely toward institutional churches, their ministers, or their members. I'm content to leave them alone. Jesus told the Pharisees that they claimed to understand the truth; therefore, they remained in their sins. He did not feel a burden to correct the Pharisees' theology. Instead, He was content to let them believe and teach whatever they wished.

Jesus' Prayer for His Disciples: Purity and Separation.

Jesus did not pray for the world; He prayed for His disciples, asking that they be kept pure from the world and not influenced by it so that they could remain separate. Through that separation, they would find unity and love for one another.

Message for Those Willing to Follow Christ.

My message is aimed at those willing to follow Christ and believe in what the Bible teaches. Some individuals have anchored themselves to a sinking ship, unwilling to leave. If you desire to follow Christ, consider His greatest sermon, which He preached from a mountain. During the Dark Ages, for 1,260 days, the woman mentioned in Revelation 12 fled into the wilderness. Why? Because the recognized institutional Church was persecuting her. The Church demanded that she submit to its doctrines and authority. To remain steadfast in the doctrine of Christ, she had to flee into the wilderness.

A Satirical Look at the Minister Profession.

If you're looking for a job that only requires a couple of hours a week but pays a full-time salary, potentially even making you wealthy, consider going to a Bible university to earn a degree in philosophy. This path can lead you to become an ordained minister who specializes in teaching within specific institutional churches, helping you live comfortably while only working a few hours each week.

The Appeal of Ministry.

It's no surprise that many people are drawn to the idea of becoming ministers. You can dress nicely, earn the respect of your congregation, and generally be viewed positively by your community. What's not to love?

Advice for True Disciples.

However, if you want to be a follower of Jesus Christ, I recommend avoiding Bible school and studying the Bible directly. If you want to understand doctrine, study it topically. To be a true disciple of Jesus, follow Paul's example: work for a living, get a job, take care of yourself and your family, and don't become a burden on others. Avoid taking money intended for widows and orphans, and set a good example for other men. Steer clear of individuals who refuse to work or support their families through their labor.

Caution Regarding Trained Ministers.

Be cautious of those who have been trained by rabbis and are simply repeating what professors have taught them. Please don't listen to their teachings or pay them for sermons that aren't scriptural and may even contradict biblical teachings.

Judgment is With God.

Ultimately, we will either be inside the city of God or outside of it. My opinion doesn't hold much weight, and I'm not here to judge or condemn anyone. I'm a Bible student sharing what I have learned from studying Scripture for myself, along with principles I live by.

Red Flags: Bible University and Paid Sermons.

If a minister has been educated at a Bible university, that raises a red flag for me. I tend not to listen to such individuals, as they often repeat the teachings of rabbis or, in modern terms, professors. Additionally, if someone is being paid a full-time salary to deliver sermons, I have further concerns. In the first-century house churches, elders were not paid salaries, and sermons did not originate in house churches; they emerged four centuries later under Constantine in the 4th century when he began building cathedrals.

Issues with Modern Church Structure.

We can identify several other issues as well. For instance, the existence of cathedrals or church buildings instead of house churches is a concern. The use of pews instead of gathering in a living room is another issue. Furthermore, the idea of passively listening to one person as the center of attention is problematic. In a house church, everyone participated; everyone talked to each other, exercised their spiritual gifts, and edified one another.

Early Church Participation vs. Passive Listening.

The notion that one person should receive all the attention while everyone else passively listens goes against the example we see in the Bible. The early Christians met in houses, not in Jewish synagogues, because they were separating from the institutional Church of Israel. They started something brand new, and their model was house churches, which we should strive to emulate.

My Unpaid Ministry.

This message is not about me; it's between you and God—the Father, the Son, the Holy Spirit—and the Bible has nothing to do with me. You and I might never meet in this life. However, I want to clarify that I am not paid a single cent for writing these letters. I do not receive any donations. I don't have a PayPal account or a Patreon account, and nobody is sending me money. I do not ask for donations. I'm sharing all of this freely.

Working for a Living

I have a job; I work and deliver food for a living through an app called DoorDash. I am struggling financially, and so I would benefit if people started sending me money, but that wouldn't align with Scripture. I am practicing what I preach. My job doesn't pay very well, and I rarely have a total of $100 to my name. I'm not asking for assistance from anyone. I pay my bills and buy my food, and I teach others to do the same.

Waiting for the Inheritance.

My life is not glamorous. I don't take expensive vacations; I'm waiting for my inheritance at the Second Coming. When that happens, I hope to be an angel, able to travel freely. I want to emphasize that I could live my life quite differently if I chose to. I was a literature evangelist for years, going door to door to introduce Christian books and Bibles to families. I'm comfortable speaking to strangers, and it would be easy for me to introduce myself as a minister starting a local church and invite them to attend.

Avoiding a Paid Ministry Path.

I could build a congregation, encourage tithing, and receive offerings, working just a few hours a week for good pay. However, that would violate my conscience, set a bad example, and ultimately make me accountable on Judgment Day. I am committed to following Jesus Christ, with no turning back, even if that means working for DoorDash, earning little money, and waiting for the Second Coming to enjoy life's comforts and pleasures. I am willing to wait and share what I learn from the Bible freely, without asking for donations.

Rejecting False Arguments for Payment.

I could point to verses such as “the laborer is worthy of his hire” or discuss how tithes supported the Levitical priest, but I know those arguments would not line up with Scripture. I would be teaching something false. Instead, I offer what I have learned freely on Google Drive. I don’t have a like button to indicate how many people have appreciated my articles, nor do I have statistics on how many people have read them. I won’t know the results until Judgment Day, so I ask you to consider that.

Criticism as Evidence of Following Christ.

I’m not getting paid to share these things with you. In fact, by sharing them, I am often criticized and not popular. Jesus said that if I follow Him, I would be hated by all men for His sake, which I take as evidence that I am on the right track. Sharing ideas that upset the world confirms that I am following the right path, and I am not discouraged by the criticism.

Contrast with Paid Ministers and Denomination Building.

I want to highlight the contrast between my approach and that of paid ministers who receive full-time salaries. I could go door to door, start a local congregation, and even continue establishing more congregations, making myself the central teacher. I could require that all the churches I start send me a portion of their offerings, effectively creating a new denomination. However, I am intentionally avoiding that path.

Uncompensated Sharing of Truth.

My preaching does not support me in any way. I don’t earn a single cent from writing my letters, my eBooks, or sharing anything on YouTube. So there you have it. Once again, I want to reiterate that this is not about me at all; this is between you, God, and the Holy Bible. Like Paul, I am following the teachings I share in that I do not live off donations. I do not ask for them, nor do I have a means for you to send them. I work for a living and eat my bread.

May God's grace and peace be with you.
In Jesus Christ's name. Amen.

Fire Your Pastor, and Tell Him to Get a Job—Part 1

By David Michael Curtis

The document "Fire Your Pastor, and Tell Him to Get a Job—Part 1" by David Michael Curtis argues that modern church practices, particularly the practice of paying pastors and having them deliver sermons, deviate from the practices described in the Book of Acts and the teachings of the Apostle Paul.

Here are the key points:

- Early Church Practices: The document emphasizes that early Christians met in house churches, where elders did not deliver sermons but rather oversaw the gathering and safeguarded against heresy. Everyone participated, sharing their gifts. Deacons were responsible for distributing offerings to widows and orphans.
- Role of Elders: Elders, also referred to as bishops or pastors, were expected to have regular jobs and support their families. They were not paid from church offerings. The document cites 2 Thessalonians 3:6-11 and 1 Timothy 5:8 to support this.
- Offerings: Offerings were intended for widows, orphans, and traveling evangelists, not for supporting local elders.
- Historical Discrepancies: The document states that institutional churches, the practice of bishops delivering sermons, and pews are later developments that began in the fourth century with Constantine and evolved over time.
- Against Modern Practices: It criticizes the modern practice of pastors being paid to deliver sermons, arguing that this is not scriptural and detracts from the original purpose of offerings. The author suggests that pastors should find employment and that church members should participate more actively in gatherings.
- Communal Living: The document distinguishes between biblical practices and communal living, noting that the Book of Acts reveals that early Christians maintained their own homes and held jobs.
- Equality: The document emphasizes the equality of all believers, including apostles and elders, and argues against the idea of a hierarchical structure with a superior leader.
- Call to Action: The author suggests that church members should consider "firing" their pastor and encourage them to seek employment elsewhere.

In essence, the document advocates for a return to what the author believes are the original biblical practices of church gatherings, leadership, and the use of offerings.

Dear friends,

Church Leadership and Practices

Fire your pastor and encourage him to find a job instead of relying on funds meant for orphans and widows. In the book of Acts, we see the roles of apostles and deacons established in the early chapters. The apostles preached both at the temple and from house to house, and the church continued to adhere to their doctrine. What was their doctrine? It consisted of the foundational teachings that Christ laid out, which are listed in Hebrews 6:1-2. These include turning from sin, trusting God, and being baptized.

The Purpose of the Temple and the Role of Deacons

First, we need to understand the purpose of the temple where the apostles taught, which was to make atonement for the sins of Israel. This atonement was achieved through annual animal sacrifices performed by the high priest on the Day of Atonement. The apostles and deacons preached that atonement was now possible only through the blood of Christ and that forgiveness of sins was no longer attainable through the law of Moses. This is why the leaders of Israel were so upset with the apostles and deacons, frequently accusing them of teaching against the law of Moses.

So, what were the duties of a deacon? The office of deacon was established so that the apostles could focus on teaching and preaching. Deacons were responsible for taking the offerings collected and distributing them to widows and orphans, ensuring that the apostles could concentrate on their teaching without distraction. In contrast to modern deacons, who are often seen as responsible for minor tasks, such as vacuuming carpets in institutional churches, the deacons in the Book of Acts had significant responsibilities in assisting the needy.

The Source of Offerings and the Doctrine of the Nicolaitans

Where did this money come from? It came from new converts who sold their houses and lands and laid the proceeds at the feet of the apostles. One of the seven deacons mentioned was named Nicholas, after whom the doctrine of the Nicolaitans is named in the Book of Revelation. This serves as a warning that even men who had their hands laid on them and were appointed to an office by the apostles could fall into apostasy and become leaders of false doctrines condemned by Jesus in His messages to the seven churches in Revelation.

Apostasy and the Importance of Marital Fidelity

Therefore, we should not assume that everyone ordained, even by apostles, is a true man of God. Someone can fall into apostasy through sexual immorality. The doctrine of the Nicolaitans, for example, stemmed from Nicholas's decision to stop having sexual relations with his wife. In contrast, the Apostle Paul taught that husbands are to show due benevolence to their wives, love them, and cherish their bodies. Paul emphasized the importance of meeting their wives' needs.

Nicholas's doctrine eventually contributed to the idea of celibacy in the priesthood, which forbade marriage.

Elders and House Churches

Let us return to our topic today: Fire your pastor and encourage him to find a job instead of relying on funds meant for orphans and widows. House churches began to emerge after the Day of Pentecost when 3,000 people were converted during the preaching of the 120 in various languages. If we assume there were thirty men per house, that would mean 1,000 house churches started on that very first day. That is a substantial number of house churches!

The early Christians had ample resources to construct buildings because many of those 3,000 sold their houses and lands, laying the proceeds at the apostles' feet. However, they did not use that money to build institutional churches. From the very beginning, Christians met in homes and did not use offerings to construct buildings.

Each house church had an elder appointed to oversee it. While the elder was capable of teaching, the practice of an elder delivering sermons on Sunday mornings did not begin until the fourth century. During that time, Constantine started constructing basilicas and cathedrals. A cathedral is the house of the cathedra, which is the chair of the Bishop. The Bishop would sit in the cathedral while everyone else stood and listened to his sermon. This practice, rooted in tradition, originated in the fourth century and lacks a scriptural basis.

The Role of Elders and the Expectation of Labor

The terms "elder," "bishop," and "pastor" all refer to the same role, with no distinctions between them. During the first three centuries of the church, elders did not stand before the congregation or deliver sermons on Sunday mornings. Rather than this, elders would sit on the living room floor alongside everyone else. The elder was not the central figure and spoke neither more nor less than any other participant in the group. It would be unrealistic to expect that a special collection was made to cover the living expenses of elders who shared a space on the floor of a home. While scriptural evidence supports the notion that the church was to assist traveling evangelists and apostles, particularly during times of imprisonment when they lacked necessities, there is no scriptural basis for the church to pay an "elder," "bishop," and "pastor" or be responsible for their living costs. The pastor is not a Levite priest, meaning we do not owe him a tenth of our income.

An elder, like any other church member, was expected to have employment to meet his expenses and mortgage obligations and support his family. The Apostle Paul asserted that if an elder chose not to work, he would be deemed as "walking disorderly." Paul stated that we should avoid associations with those who refuse to work or provide for their families.

2 Thessalonians 3:6-11 NIV

6. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, we command you, brothers and sisters, to keep away from every believer who is idle and disruptive and does not live according to the teaching you received from us.
7. For you yourselves know how you ought to follow our example. We were not idle when we were with you,
8. nor did we eat anyone's food without paying for it. On the contrary, we worked night and day, laboring and toiling so that we would not be a burden to any of you.
9. We did this not because we do not have the right to such help but in order to offer ourselves as a model for you to imitate.
10. For even when we were with you, we gave you this rule: "The one who is unwilling to work shall not eat."
11. We have heard that some among you are idle and disruptive. They are not busy; they are busybodies.

Does the Bible teach that "a laborer is worthy of his hire?" Yes, it does. Did offerings support men in the ministry? Yes, those were apostles and evangelists who traveled and spread the Gospel. A modern application would be to support missionaries working in famine-stricken regions, who often have less than $150 a month in support. The offerings were not given to the local elders.

While on his travels, Paul crafted tents to sustain himself and encouraged all the men in the churches he founded to work and support their families. He stressed that anyone who fails to work and care for his family is worse than someone who does not believe. The men, including elders, in the churches established by Paul were taught to work, provide for themselves, and care for their families.

1 Timothy 5:8 But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

False prophets preach Christ for the sake of greed. In contrast, the elders in the Bible had jobs; they were not paid to teach but instead worked, earned their bread, and took care of their families. Is your pastor being paid to teach? Is he willing to stop taking money from the widows and orphans fund, get a job, and still share his doctrines without being paid to do so?

Communal Living vs. Biblical Practices

A few blocks from where I am driving right now, there is a communal living house owned by the Yellow Deli people. Everyone who lives there works for no pay; they do not earn any money and practice communal living. They believe they are following the principles described in the Book of Acts. However, the Book of Acts does not describe communal living; instead, it shows that everyone had their own house, worked, earned money, and took care of themselves and their families.

In Acts 2-3, we see that the early Christians went from house to house, indicating that each family lived in a different home. The wealthier families did sell some houses; they kept a home for their family to live in. The Apostle Paul emphasized the importance of working to support one's family, stating that anyone who does not provide for them is worse than an unbeliever.

The Yellow Deli is not Christian; it is a cult that originated in the 1970s. The Yellow Deli staff work slavish hours but practice communal living without compensation for their labor. They send all the profits made at the local Yellow Deli to Australia, where others manage the money. Meanwhile, these hippies work for free and own extraordinarily little—just personal items like toothbrushes, hairbrushes, and their wives. They do not share their wives or personal hygiene items, but everything else is collectively owned and not owned by any individual.

This practice does not align with what we read in the Book of Acts or the writings of the Apostle Paul. Each Christian family in the early church had its own home, occupation, and responsibilities to care for its own family. As God prospered them, any surplus they had after supporting their families and widows was given as a free offering each Sunday morning when they met in house churches. This money was used to support widows and orphans in the church who were unable to care for themselves.

Every man was expected to hold a job, and if they declined to do so, Paul directed that they should go without food and be excluded from fellowship. Thus, any man who “walketh disorderly,” refusing to work, faced disfellowshipping until he secured employment.

Modern Pastors and Historical Discrepancies

In many modern churches, there are individuals called pastors who often do not hold regular jobs. Instead, they rely on the offerings provided by the congregation on a weekly basis.

In DeSoto County, we have an independent Baptist minister who owns a significant amount of land and has built the largest house I have seen in the county. This has been made possible through the offerings at a Baptist church in Port Charlotte, which consists of approximately 200 families. This church is conservative and independent, using the King James Version of the Bible. I would describe this pastor and his family as conservative. However, he does not have a job, nor does he support his family through labor. Instead, they are financially supported by the offerings of that church, which, biblically, ought to go to widows, orphans, and those experiencing homelessness and poverty. He is taking money that could feed widows and is not working to provide for his family himself.

What I am sharing is not debatable; it is a historical fact. It is well-documented that institutional churches were not established until the fourth century, during the time of Constantine. It is a well-known fact that the role of a bishop delivering sermons from a central stage in a cathedral dates back to the fourth century. During the first three hundred years of Christianity, believers met in homes and caves while hiding from the persecution of various Roman emperors.

In those early years, elders did not deliver sermons each Sunday morning. This is not a matter of interpretation; how your church interprets the Bible does not change history. A church could interpret the Bible to say that the sky was yellow, but it would not change the fact that the sky is blue.

The Evolution of Church Practices

In modern times, the roles of pastor and elder are distinguished as two different offices. However, in scripture, the pastor and elder were the same person holding the same office. During the first three hundred years, pastors or elders did not deliver sermons. The early church did not have members passively listening to sermons each Sunday; rather, they gathered in circles facing each other in a living room and actively engaged in conversation.

This practice is described in 1 Corinthians 12, where it states that everyone in the house church had different gifts and was to exercise those gifts each Sunday. Some would sing, some would pray, and others would edify the group. For instance, if someone spoke in a different language, an interpreter was responsible for translating that message. Imagine an English-speaking church where a person gifted in Chinese delivered a message in that language; someone with the gift of interpretation would then translate it into English.

These gatherings typically involved about 30 to 35 people sitting in the living room, facing each other and actively participating in the church community. The modern practice of passively facing a pulpit and listening to sermons is not indicative of true church tradition; this practice began in the fourth century. Additionally, the practice of sitting in pews did not begin until the 18th century.

During the Reformation, when many Roman Catholic churches transitioned to Protestant churches, Martin Luther would ascend a stairway to an elevated pulpit. At the same time, everyone else stood about ten feet lower on the ground floor. They did not sit in pews; rather, they stood for the entire lecture delivered by Dr. Martin Luther. Aren't you glad you do not have to stand during the sermon, especially if the pastor preaches for over an hour? That method of worship continued until the 1700s.

The History of Pews

In the 18th century, wooden boxes were constructed and sold, becoming the property of wealthy church members. These boxes allowed individuals to step inside, close the door, and enjoy privacy. Many were carpeted, and people even brought their animals to church, sitting inside their boxes with them. After the service, they could lock these wooden boxes.

When we visit Christ Church, where the founding fathers of the United States attended for decades, we can see the pews that were purchased by them, which still bear their names, including those of Benjamin Franklin and George Washington. This was a shift from the wooden boxes, which were no longer in use. Later in the 1700s, wooden benches, now commonly referred to as pews, were developed.

This traditional seating arrangement, with everyone facing forward, encourages passive listening to the pastor's sermon. It disconnects us from one another and limits interaction.

The core purpose of the church was to edify one another, to exercise the spiritual gifts bestowed by the Holy Spirit, and to support fellow members with these gifts. In a pew, everyone remains silent, passively listening to a sermon, while only the speaker's gift is utilized, which is not scriptural.

The sermon, delivered from the pulpit, has a traditional foundation rooted in human doctrine, dating back to the fourth century. This is not open to interpretation. Regardless of how your church interprets different verses, this is a historical fact. You might consider firing your pastor and encouraging him to find employment instead of relying on funds meant for orphans and widows.

The Role of Elders and Deacons in Early Churches

In the first three centuries, the church began with gatherings in homes led by an elder and a deacon. The elder's role was to safeguard against heresy. If someone visited and preached false teachings, the elder would admonish that person once or twice and then avoid further interaction.

The church was intended to be organic, as noted by modern authors discussing house churches. This means that the elder was not the center of attention; instead, the congregation sat in a circle in a living room setting. One person might offer a prayer, another would share a psalm, and in turn, they could read from the letters of Paul or other apostles. The idea was that everyone participated, sharing their gifts and edifying one another.

However, by the second century, individuals began to identify themselves as church fathers, and they created new positions as overseers of multiple churches. These offices did not exist during the time the New Testament was being written. During the second and third centuries, autonomous house churches began sending offerings to these new "overseers" known as bishops. This new class of Bishops emerged in cities like Antioch and Alexandria, overseeing several cities consisting of dozens of house churches.

In the fourth century, bishops would preach while positioned on a cathedra (seat of authority) situated on an elaborately decorated platform at the front of the cathedral, where it was expected that everyone would listen passively. Thus, the tradition was born into history, replacing the active, vibrant, and engaging house churches that the apostles planted with dry and boring institutional churches.

False Apostles and the True Foundation of the Church

While the New Testament was being composed, false apostles were already traveling alongside the twelve apostles, including Paul. The Book of Revelation mentions that one of the seven churches rejected those who claimed to be apostles but were not. Similarly, in the second and third centuries, people claimed to be bishops without genuine authority, establishing positions that lacked a foundation during the apostolic era.

The New Testament indicates that no other foundation can be laid than the one that Christ and the apostles laid. The foundation laid by Christ and the apostles involved house churches, each led by an elder and a deacon. The deacon's role was to distribute offerings to widows and orphans and assist those living in poverty. Their duties did not include mundane tasks like vacuuming carpets.

The elder was inclined to teach and acted as a shepherd, safeguarding the community from false teachings. He did not deliver sermons in the way we see today; instead, he sat in the living room alongside everyone else, remaining mostly quiet and intervening only to teach or confront heretics. If someone were teaching heresy, the elder would speak to them privately about their offense and then involve two or three others to address the issue, emphasizing the need for repentance. If the individual did not repent after one or two admonitions, they would be rejected from the house church and not permitted to return.

However, there were house churches that did not follow this pattern, and entire congregations were led astray by false teachers who infiltrated these homes and spread their heresies. Later, in the second century, some individuals emerged claiming to hold a special office, such as an overseer or bishop. They asserted authority over several churches and eventually over multiple cities of churches. This concept is a departure from the foundation laid by Christ and the apostles.

Equality Among Apostles and Elders

The idea that Peter is the chief shepherd is contrary to the original foundation established by Christ and the apostles. Jesus affirmed that the gates of Hell would not prevail against it. When we examine the first three chapters of 1 Corinthians, we see that Peter, Apollos, and Paul founded house churches. This text specifically addresses whether Peter was superior to the others. The apostle Paul instructed against divisions, stating that we were not baptized into Peter, Paul, or Apollos but rather into Christ. He emphasized that these three men were not crucified for us—Jesus was. He urged us to stop creating divisions among ourselves.

Therefore, the notion that there is a church founded by Peter that is superior to one founded by Paul is debunked in 1 Corinthians, chapters one through three. This issue is clearly discussed. The churches founded by Peter were not superior to those established by the other apostles. Such divisions were to be rejected.

Furthermore, both the Apostle Peter and the Apostle John identified themselves as elders, indicating that they were brothers and not superior to the other elders despite being apostles. Jesus taught that we are all equal and should regard one another as brothers and sisters in Christ. We are not to call anyone "Rabbi" or "Father," nor should we view anyone as holding a holy office that is separate or superior to ourselves. Rather, we are to see everyone as equal.

In summary, Peter, Paul, and Apollos all established house churches that held equal status. The foundation of the church is Christ, who died for us.

The Purpose of Elders and the Practice of Gift Sharing

It may be time to reconsider the leadership within your church; perhaps you should fire your pastor and encourage him to find a job instead of relying on funds meant for orphans and widows. When the church began, elders were not meant to sit around without working and living off offerings from the house church while everyone else took care of their families. Why would they do that? You might say a laborer is worthy of his wages, but the elder did not really do much. He did not deliver a sermon each week but instead sat in the living room like everyone else, speaking up only when heresy was being taught. His role was to safeguard the congregation from false teachings. If everything was running smoothly, he quietly allowed everyone else to participate in the church, exercising their gifts and edifying one another.

If you find yourself passively sitting in a pew, listening to only one person exercise their gift—and that gift is questionable and not even biblical—then the members of the church are having their gifts stifled. 1 Corinthians 12 asks, "Are we all the same member? Don't we all have different gifts?" Yet, the modern institutional church often has only one gift: that of the orator or speaker who delivers lectures. These presentations may include one or two verses but often consist of human interpretation rather than biblical teaching. It would be better to read the Scripture together without interpretation, taking turns reading a chapter, rather than listening to one person monopolize the time with their interpretations.

May God's grace and peace be with you.

In Jesus Christ's name. Amen.

Fire Your Pastor, and Tell Him to Get a Job—Part 2

By David Michael Curtis

Based on the provided document "Fire Your Pastor, and Tell Him to Get a Job—Part 2.pdf" by David Michael Curtis, here's a summary of its key points:

- Critique of Paid Pastors: The document strongly advocates for firing pastors who are financially supported by church offerings. It argues that pastors should have regular jobs and not rely on church funds, which should be reserved for widows, orphans, and those truly in need.
- Early Church Practices: It asserts that early Christian house churches did not have paid pastors or formal sermons. Elders were not compensated and had secular jobs. Sermons became a common practice much later, around the fourth century.
- Equality of Elders: The author emphasizes that in the early church, there was no hierarchy among elders. They were all equal, and even the Apostle Paul did not claim authority over the faith of others.
- Rejection of Hierarchical Structures: The document criticizes the hierarchical structure of churches, such as the Roman Catholic Church, with positions including priests, bishops, cardinals, and the Pope. It argues that these structures are not based on biblical examples.
- Authority of Scripture: It emphasizes the importance of building faith in the Bible rather than in church fathers or later church traditions. The author points out contradictions among church fathers and within various denominations, advocating for adherence to the clear teachings of Scripture.
- House Churches: The document suggests establishing house churches with elders and deacons, where participation is expected from everyone, and offerings are used to support the needy and missionaries who teach the true gospel.
- Financial Responsibility: It emphasizes personal financial responsibility and discourages taking advantage of church offerings. It asserts that those who can work should do so and provide for themselves and their families.
- Discernment and Separation: The author encourages discernment regarding teachings and calls for separation from false prophets and teachings. It advises choosing elders who are skilled in teaching and guarding against heresy.
- Gospel and Baptism: The document defines the gospel as Christ's death for our sins, burial, and resurrection and emphasizes the importance of repentance and baptism for salvation.

In essence, the document argues for a return to what the author believes are the original practices of the early Christian church, with a focus on simplicity, equality, financial responsibility, and adherence to Scripture.

“In apostolic times, there was no distinction between bishops, elders, or presbyters (Acts 20:17-28; 1 Peter 5:1-2; Philippians 1:1; 1 Timothy 3). The term "bishop" is never used to denote a different office from that of elder or presbyter.” – Easton's Bible Dictionary

Dear Friends

Consider firing your pastor and encourage him to find a job instead of relying on funds meant for orphans and widows. If anyone in the church is walking disorderly and refuses to work, you should not fellowship with that person or share a meal with them. This is intended to make them feel ashamed and encourage them to find employment. According to the Apostle Paul, if someone refuses to work and support their family, they are worse than an infidel.

You are not obligated to provide compensation to a minister for preaching sermons. Elders in the early house churches did not deliver formal lectures or sermons. Additionally, the elders did not visit homes or spend time with their wives and children when the father was absent. Sermons did not become a common practice until the fourth century. Nonetheless, the practice of a wolf in sheep's clothing visiting homes during the man's absence was already in place when Paul composed his letters.

2 Timothy 3:5-6 Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

The elder was apt to teach, but this was not a compensated position. No financial assistance was offered to help elders cover their living expenses. Instead, offerings were intended to assist widows, orphans, and traveling evangelists, with deacons managing the distribution rather than a treasurer.

The Emergence of Monasticism and Clerical Authority

When looking into church history, we can trace various departures from the foundations laid by Christ and the apostles. One such departure involved a lifestyle characterized by a lack of stable income, leading individuals to resort to begging for money and food. Distinct groups formed, such as monks and friars, who adopted a form of godliness and vowed to live in poverty. This vow was essentially a commitment to disobedience to the teachings of the apostles, who instructed all men to work and take care of themselves and their families.

These monks became a burden on the peasants, who owned no land and were taxed by kings, landowners, and the church. Despite their struggles to feed themselves, they were expected to give even more to begging monks who refused to work for their bread. This practice created resentment among the peasants and misled them into believing that this was Christianity. They were taught that Christ and the apostles demanded that they labor like slaves, giving all their earnings to landowners, the king, and the church—while also providing for begging monks.

This practice continues today, as some pastors expect payment for delivering a sermon just once a week. Instead of working a full-time job, they often spend only about an hour or two per week working.

The apostles identified as elders, indicating equality among themselves and with the elders in your church. They were not superior to others. In First Corinthians, the Apostle Paul states that he did not exercise authority over our faith. This was Paul speaking, and even as he wrote this letter, which holds authority, he did not have authority over their faith. He was an elder, just like every other elder, who were all equal. The Apostle Paul was subject to the principles he wrote about; he was not above them.

How do I know this? Read Galatians 1:8-9. Paul states that even if we or an angel teach a different gospel, it is to be condemned. If the Apostle Paul taught something contrary to the gospel based on his authority, it would be considered a curse. His writings are scripture, and we are subject to that scripture. It is inerrant and can withstand all criticism. It is to be obeyed, followed and believed.

What I am distinguishing is that Paul did not have an authority invested in him that allowed him to say whatever he pleased or teach whatever he wanted. He had to teach what Christ commanded him to convey. He was an apostle called by God through Jesus Christ, tasked with delivering the message that God gave him.

2 Corinthians 1:24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

The notion that individuals were assigned to supervise various churches, to whom we are expected to yield, is something Paul himself never asserted. He highlighted that the apostles do not exercise authority over our faith. In the second and third centuries, overseers or bishops began to emerge, assuming roles that allowed them to collect offerings from multiple churches and insist that those congregations adhere to their teachings. This marked a shift away from the principles established by Christ and the Apostles. The core message is that we are called to turn away from sin, place our trust in God, and undergo baptism. As followers of Christ, we are meant to follow the Good Shepherd and avoid using terms like "Rabbi" or "Father" for anyone.

The Roman Catholic Church and Hierarchical Structures

Right across the street from where I am recording this is a Roman Catholic Church, where ministers are called priests and referred to as fathers. This directly violates Christ's commandment not to call any man on Earth your father. That, by itself, signals to me that it is not Christian. Christianity is based on teaching obedience to what Christ commanded. He explicitly commanded us not to call any man on Earth father or rabbi and stated that Christ is our master and teacher. He is the head of the church, and we are all equal—whether we are apostles, elders, deacons, or simply individuals attending a house church. We all have one head: Christ.

In the Roman Catholic Church, there is a position known as Pontifex Maximus, one of the titles held by the Pope. This title, however, is not inherently Christian; in fact, there was no Pontifex Maximus during the time of the apostles. Even if such a position existed, it was not Peter who held it. The head of the Jerusalem Council was actually James, the brother of Christ. Therefore, if Peter became Pontifex Maximus after James was martyred, it would be too late for the church to be built on Peter as its foundation since James was the first leader of the Jerusalem Church, not Peter. Additionally, James was not referred to as Pontifex Maximus.

The office of Pontifex Maximus existed centuries before Christ established the church. In Roman religion, there was a high priest known as the Pontifex Maximus. This hierarchical structure, which included senators during the Republic, is reflected today in the Vatican, where we have a Pontifex Maximus (the Pope) and a Senate composed of Cardinals. Beneath the Cardinals are subordinate leaders called bishops, who oversee specific dioceses and their churches. Each church is required to pay a tax to the bishop, while one or more priests serve local churches.

This is a pyramid structure, and none of these offices existed in the house churches that Peter, Paul, and Apollos founded. In those house churches, there were simply elders and deacons; there was no overseer over multiple house churches. Such positions did not arise until the second century when these so-called Church Fathers began asserting authority and demanding taxes from various churches under their jurisdiction. These roles were artificial, not appointed by the apostles, as these bishops claimed their territories from which they taxed the churches below them.

By the 11th century, a significant event known as the Great Schism had occurred, dividing the Roman Catholic Church and the Eastern Orthodox Church. This schism was primarily caused by the Bishop of Rome claiming a position of authority over all other bishops, a claim that the Eastern Orthodox Church rejected. The origin of this tradition dates back to 606 AD when the Byzantine emperor bestowed the title of "overseer of all bishops" upon the Bishop of Rome. Four hundred years later, the Great Schism occurred when Eastern bishops refused to submit to the authority of the Roman bishop. In contrast, bishops in the West, now known as cardinals, acknowledged the authority of the Pope, also known as the Pontifex Maximus.

This is the history of the church, and it is not open for debate; these events truly occurred. Given this, we ought not only to fire the pastor but also to dismiss the priests, bishops, Cardinals, and the Pope, urging them to find legitimate employment and support themselves rather than residing in extravagant palaces built with the contributions of the poor, originally intended to assist widows and orphans.

Church Fathers and the Authority of Scripture

Throughout the history of the church, the authentic church is depicted as hidden in the wilderness, as mentioned in Revelation 12. When reading a church history book — and I have read several — keep in mind that you are examining a church that has its Church Fathers, bishops, Cardinals, and Pope. Meanwhile, the true church was concealed, living in caves and secretly traveling across Europe as missionaries, distributing scripture during times when possessing scripture in one's language was forbidden. Those caught doing so could face the Inquisition, torture, or even martyrdom at the hands of the institutional church described in history.

These men are referred to as Church Fathers because their influence began when they, like wolves in sheep's clothing, appeared in history, claiming authority over the faith and imposing taxes on local house churches, amassing wealth for themselves.

So, everyone who followed in their footsteps—calling themselves bishops, cardinals, and popes—rests their authority on the authority of the church fathers. It is a house of cards. The church fathers did not possess any true authority; they asserted authority, granted it to themselves, and aimed to make other men their disciples. We have a vast amount of their writing—some say it exceeds one million pages. Within these works, various discussions occur, and these church fathers often disagree with one another. They taught different doctrines and held contrasting beliefs.

The Roman Catholic Church claims that these writings are harmonious and promotes this idea in its schools, presenting selected quotes to its laypeople in churches. Roman Catholics are presented with a carefully curated set of quotes to create a false sense of unity within the Church Fathers' writings. In reality, they contradicted each other.

Dr. Martin Luther, at the Diet of Worms, pointed out that the church fathers, councils, and popes contradicted each other. Because of this, it is impossible to follow these men, as they all say different things, teach different doctrines and contradict one another. This is the state of things; it is the truth. Following the church fathers requires you to choose which one you will submit to, as they do not agree with each other.

Therefore, I encourage you to build your faith on the solid rock of the Bible. The Bible is in harmony; it is unified and can withstand the criticisms of the entire world.

If you are following authorities that emerged after the apostles wrote the New Testament, you are following false shepherds. Anyone who claims a position of authority over your faith is a false shepherd. I want to highlight the same obvious truth that Martin Luther pointed out at the Diet of Worms, but this time, I am directing it toward evangelicals.

If you say, "I am a Baptist," that does not convey much. Baptists disagree among themselves on nearly every aspect of doctrine taught within the Baptist Church. Claiming to be a Baptist does not clearly define your beliefs. There are Baptists who are Calvinists and those who reject Calvinism. There are Baptists who hold one view and others who contradict it across the entire spectrum of Baptist teaching.

Identifying as a Seventh-day Adventist doesn't accurately convey your beliefs to me. There are liberal Seventh-day Adventists who often disregard the traditional teachings of the church and hold differing views on salvation than the conservatives within the Adventist community. Some Seventh-day Adventists are quite evangelical, while others are more conservative and view the evangelical members as apostates.

Simply stating, “I am a Seventh-day Adventist,” fails to clarify your beliefs. Some followers uphold the investigative judgment, while others have moved away from it. This distinction significantly alters the understanding of salvation between these two groups. So, do you align yourself with Ellen G. White's teachings or with a contemporary evangelist who has diverged from her principles? Do you believe that only vegan Sabbath keepers will receive God's seal during a Sunday law? Or do you find that notion absurd?

This same issue can be seen when someone claims to belong to any organized church. Each church contains vastly different beliefs within its ranks. This is the issue Martin Luther highlighted at the Diet of Worms. Which type of Roman Catholic are you? There are dozens of variations of Roman Catholicism, with sharp disagreements within them.

Martin Luther, at the Diet of Worms, stated that the church fathers, councils, and popes contradicted each other. I suggest that regardless of the church—be it Baptist, Seventh-Day Adventist, or any other denomination—there are contradictions in virtually every single doctrine, or at least in some core tenets of that faith. This means that you must choose which church fathers within your institutional church you wish to believe in and follow as disciples.

Departure from Biblical Church Patterns

What I am sharing today is not the pattern that was laid down at the foundation of the Church. We are not meant to be disciples of any man, nor should we refer to any man as our rabbi or father. I do not care what the church fathers wrote; they hold no significance for me. I do not read about church fathers in scripture; I read about apostles, prophets, evangelists, and teachers, but not about church fathers who were bishops over regions of house churches. That office did not exist.

The priest conducting a mass did not exist, nor did a Senate or a group of Cardinals in the Vatican. These things are not found in scripture. Additionally, Peter was certainly not the head of the Jerusalem Church; that role belonged to James. The only thing the Council at Jerusalem commanded the Gentile churches was not to eat anything strangled or with blood and not to commit fornication. It was amazingly simple; they provided just a few instructions in Acts 15: if you eat meat, ensure that it has been properly bled, and do not commit fornication.

The Jerusalem Council and House Church Autonomy

That was all the instruction that James, Peter, and the apostles provided during the Jerusalem Council. They respected the autonomy of the house churches and refrained from imposing authority over their faith. They recognized that Christ was the head of the church, present among them and leading them. There was no need for a bishop, cardinal, or pope. Jesus was in their midst, and He was the head of the church, providing gifts through the Holy Spirit, which the church was to exercise during their gatherings in a house setting.

Participation should be expected from everyone, not just a single person giving a sermon. If your offerings support individuals who do not have jobs and are engaged in self-appointed work based on tradition—not outlined in Scripture, such as giving sermons or conducting masses—then these individuals should seek employment and provide for themselves. They are walking disorderly.

Establishing House Churches and Supporting Missionaries

I suggest starting a house church. Appoint a deacon to handle the offerings. Ensure that your deacon is trustworthy and can provide an account of every penny received. It is important to demonstrate that these offerings are being used for good works, such as helping widows and orphans within the church.

If you wish to support anyone laboring for the gospel, consider supporting missionaries. These are the individuals who were supported during the time the New Testament was written; we refer to them as missionaries today, while they were referred to as evangelists in the New Testament. They traveled from place to place to teach the gospel. Ensure that your missionary is teaching the true gospel: that Christ died for our sins according to Scripture, was buried, and rose again on the third day. Jesus' death atones for our sins, and to receive forgiveness, we must repent and be baptized. Be aware that there are missionaries who focus on teaching a different gospel. Do not send offerings to just anyone calling themselves a missionary. Learn about their principal foundational doctrines. Mormon missionaries began an in-home visit by presenting an evangelical-like gospel, then shifted topics and became completely focused on Joseph Smith. There is a Calvinist missionary society that has thousands of missionaries who focus on indoctrinating with TULIP rather than the gospel.

The Gospel and Baptism

To be saved, one must hear the gospel, believe it, turn from their sins, trust God, and be baptized in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Through this process, our sins are forgiven, and we are justified, sanctified, and washed in the name of Jesus and by the power of the Holy Spirit at the time of baptism. If you support a missionary, be sure this is the gospel he is teaching and that it is not merely an introduction to a complex religious system in order to join an institutional church.

New Testament Church Structure and Practices

After baptism, that person should be added to the church. The churches of the New Testament era were house churches, with the only officers being an elder and a deacon. The elder was responsible for guarding against heretics and ensuring that false teachers were not let into the house. The deacon was responsible for collecting offerings and distributing them to widows, orphans, and those in need during times of emergency. The elder and deacon did not keep any of the offerings for themselves. Only deceitful teachers claimed that the offerings were meant for their own use.

The contributions gathered and utilized for charitable purposes were regarded as the fruits of every individual, regardless of the amount they gave. Some enslaved individuals, despite being unable to provide monetary support, were equally considered as bearing fruit.

The early church was straightforward, and what we see in modern institutional churches often resembles a departure from that simplicity. Some individuals may claim to be apostles when, in fact, they are not. Likewise, institutions claim to be churches that are not the church—these are counterfeits.

Discernment and Separation from False Teachings

We are not here to judge or condemn; we will let Jesus sort it all out. There are true children of God within all these institutional churches who are unaware of the truths you have been learning. This is supported by the message "Come out of her, my people," which indicates that God has people inside Babylon. We are not condemning institutional churches or determining who is saved and who is lost. In some cases, both the saved and the lost will grow together until the harvest, at which point the angels will separate them.

If you understand these principles and have received the call to set yourself apart, you should follow Christ and establish a house church. Choose an elder who is skilled in teaching, capable of recognizing heresies, and courageous enough to stand against them. A good shepherd will safeguard the congregation and address anyone spreading false teachings, informing them that they will not be accepted into the house again unless they cease their heretical teachings.

Moreover, appoint a deacon who can distribute offerings on a weekly basis, particularly to those in need within your house church. Encourage every man in your house church to have a job, to refrain from walking disorderly, and to take care of their own family and financial responsibilities.

Financial Responsibility and Protecting Against Heresy

It is essential not to be a burden to the church or to take advantage of offerings intended for those in need. Unfortunately, many institutional churches will not take this step, and they often continue to support pastors from funds intended for orphans and widows. A pastor in that situation should be ashamed for taking money that rightfully belongs to those who are vulnerable.

It is the duty of the elder, who occupies a role similar to that of a pastor, to safeguard the congregation from false teachings. But what should you do if your pastor turns out to be a heretic? Ultimately, you must trust in Christ for guidance, provided you adhere to His commandments. The Bible explicitly tells us not to sit under the teachings of false prophets or listen to their doctrines. We are cautioned to be mindful of their doctrines since even a small portion of leaven can leaven the entire batch of bread.

If you are part of a house church with a faithful elder, you will have someone watching over you to ensure that heresy does not creep in. If not, it becomes your responsibility to adhere to Christ's commandments. He is the Good Shepherd, and we should follow Him. We cannot make excuses for following a false prophet instead of Christ, regardless of how convinced we may be toward a pastor's sermons.

Personal Responsibility and Financial Integrity

If you are attending an institutional church where the pastor may be preaching heretical teachings, you have only yourself to blame for staying. No one is forcing you to attend that church; it is a choice you make willingly. Your attendance is not for God's sake; He commanded us not to listen to false prophets.

What if your pastor is faithful in his teachings but is living off the funds meant for widows and orphans? Even if his sermons are solid, if he is not supporting his own family by finding work, he is worse than an unbeliever. This practice resembles the vow of poverty taken by monks or friars. A pastor should not depend on the church funds but should work to provide for his own needs.

Offerings are intended to support widows, orphans, and those facing crises—much like those who were in need during the famine in Jerusalem. If you are giving your money to wealthy individuals instead of the needy, you are going against Christ's commandment to give to the poor. Scripture is clear: your contributions should not go to wealthy men but should instead help those in need.

May God's grace and peace be with you.

In Jesus Christ's name. Amen.

Good Works in First Century House Churches

By David Michael Curtis

"Good Works in First-Century House Churches" by David Michael Curtis examines the practices of early Christian house churches and contrasts them with modern institutional churches, particularly in terms of financial offerings and community support.

Here's a breakdown of the key points from the document:

- Early House Church Structure: The document describes how early Christians gathered in homes for worship, shared meals (known as love feasts), read scripture, prayed, and made collective offerings. These offerings were used to support individuals in need within the community, including widows, orphans, and those facing hardship. There was a strong emphasis on mutual support and ensuring no one lacked necessities.
- Financial Contributions: Offerings were made based on each person's ability. Those with less gave modestly, while those with more helped cover shortfalls. These collected funds were used for acts of kindness and good works within the community. This is contrasted with the Old Testament practice of tithing, which the author argues was a tax specific to the Levitical priesthood and not applicable to modern Christians.
- Community Support: Early house churches operated as close-knit communities where members supported one another in times of need. This included providing for those who were sick, imprisoned, or otherwise unable to provide for themselves. The document emphasizes the love and support within these early communities.
- Critique of Modern Institutional Churches: David Michael Curtis critiques modern churches for often prioritizing building projects, mortgages, and staff salaries over serving the poor and the needy. He argues that offerings should primarily be used for charitable purposes and to support those in need rather than funding infrastructure or administrative costs.
- Emphasis on Good Works: The document emphasizes that the purpose of offerings in the early church was to perform good works, such as caring for widows, orphans, and the homeless. It contrasts this with modern churches that may focus more on maintaining buildings and programs.
- House Churches as an Ideal: The author advocates for a return to the house church model, where communities are more closely knit, and resources are directly utilized to support those in need. He suggests that this model aligns more closely with Christ's teachings on caring for the poor and the needy.

- Paul's Example: The document references Paul's example of working to support himself and encouraging others to do the same. It also mentions instances where Paul received support from certain churches while others neglected him in times of need.
- False Prophets and Greed: The author warns against greed and false prophets who preach for personal financial gain. He suggests that churches focused on maintaining buildings and paying large salaries may be neglecting their true purpose of serving the needy.

In essence, the document advocates for the idea that Christian communities should prioritize assisting those in need and that the house church model is a more effective means of achieving this than modern institutional churches.

Dear friends,

The Importance of Good Works and House Churches

In today's letter, we will discuss the importance of good works. I want to begin by emphasizing that if you are not part of a house church and are living on a low income, you are at a disadvantage when it comes to participating in good works.

The Ideal Structure of a House Church

Let me describe how things should ideally be within a house church. Believers gather together to break bread, remembering that Christ died for their sins, as recorded in Scripture. They edify and encourage one another, visit and converse, take turns reading Scripture, pray together, sing, and then share a meal, often referred to as the love feast.

Financial Contributions and Collective Good Works

Everyone who attends the house church contributes an offering, as the Lord had prospered them. Those on low incomes can give modestly, like the widow who could only afford to contribute two mites, while others who are wealthier can help cover any shortfall. Together, the collective funds gathered from everyone in the house church are used to perform acts of kindness and good works.

Biblical Examples of Collective Offerings

This practice is illustrated in the Bible, where Paul collected offerings during a famine in Jerusalem to help the church that was suffering from the crisis. This collection took place on the first day of the week when everyone would set aside an offering as God had prospered them. When they gathered together in a house, they would present their offerings, which were always used for good works, ensuring that no one faced lack and everyone had what they needed.

Community Support and Love in Early House Churches

In a functioning house church, individuals didn't have to worry about emergencies or crises. The house church community supported one another, ensuring that no one went hungry or faced difficulties alone. Jesus said, "You will know them by their love for one another," and that love was evident in the house churches that the apostles started.

Diversity and Equality in Early Church Gatherings

These gatherings were diverse, consisting of both poor and wealthy individuals, but it didn't matter who was who. Everyone gave according to their means, which meant no one lacked anything. When there was an abundance, that surplus was used to help other house churches in need due to troubles like famine.

Contrasting Modern Institutional Church Practices

In contrast, modern practices in institutional churches often leave individuals to fend for themselves. Each person is responsible for facing their crises. If you are wealthy, the focus may shift to accumulating more possessions or saving for retirement while still managing your challenges alone.

Early Church Community and Support for the Needy

In the early church, however, everyone was part of a community—a family where no one lacked what they needed. Many early church members were slaves who had no income, and their masters often failed to provide for even their basic needs. Jesus taught that if you have two shirts, you should give one to someone who has none, illustrating the necessity of supporting one another. Wealthy Christians in the early church would help their fellow believers, including slave Christians, fulfill their needs through community offerings collected on the first day of the week in the house church.

Collective Contribution and Recognition in House Churches

The good deeds of the house church were attributed to all its members, which meant that everyone, regardless of their income, was seen as contributing to the work of good. The church functioned as a single community—a body of believers where everyone was recognized for their collective good works.

The Purpose of Weekly Offerings in Early Churches

The weekly offerings collected were primarily used to support widows who had lost their husbands and had no earthly support, as well as orphans—the fatherless children who lacked anyone to care for them. The primary purpose of the weekly offering in the house church was to take place on the first day of the week. It aimed to care for widows, orphans, and anyone within the church who had needs.

Paul's Example and Encouragement to Work and Provide

Paul set an example by working to earn his living and consistently encouraged the men in the house churches to follow his lead. He advised them to work and provide for themselves, urging even those who had previously been involved in theft to find employment so that they could contribute to others.

Contrasting Modern Church Spending Practices

In contrast, let's examine current practices in institutional churches. For instance, Calvary Baptist Church in Arcadia, FL, recently sold a large plot of land to the Wawa Gas Company, which constructed a gas station on Highway 70. The church used the money from this sale to construct a large parking lot and new buildings, which are currently under construction. This is where the weekly offerings are being directed—towards parking lots, buildings, and church programs.

Wealth, Offerings, and Neglect of the Needy

In another case, a Baptist family here owns the largest house in DeSoto County, along with a significant amount of land. Their wealth was given to them through offerings made to a local, independent Baptist Church. These offerings are directed towards paying off the church mortgage, meeting legally required insurance, funding various church programs, covering utility bills, and supporting the pastor and his family, allowing them to live in luxury. They purchased the land about three years ago and have since built a massive home.

The Reality of Homelessness and Neglect

Meanwhile, there are homeless people in Arcadia who are being neglected. They are living in dirty clothes and lack even necessities, such as water. One homeless man told me, "If you have water, you have everything. If you have no water, you have nothing." He truly understands the hardship of going without essential resources. Yet, the affluent Baptist family continues to live in complete comfort, largely supported by offerings collected at the church.

Tithing: Old Testament vs. New Testament

Many churches teach that one must tithe. But is tithing biblical? It depends on whether you reference the Old Testament or the New Testament. In the Old Testament, Abraham gave a tithe to Melchizedek after the War of the Kings as a form of tax. After the Mount Sinai Covenant was established, the twelve tribes of Israel were given land. At the same time, the Levites were set apart for service in the sanctuary and did not receive an inheritance of land. The other tribes were required to pay a tithe—10% of their harvest—to support the Levitical priests.

Tithing in the Modern Context

Since 70 AD, there has been no temple in Jerusalem, no Levitical priests, and no tribe of Levi to whom one can pay a tithe. The tithe served as a tax intended to fund the Levitical priests. The absence of Levitical priests indicates that no tax is owed to them. Furthermore, only Israelites were obligated to pay the temple tax.

Free Offerings vs. Tithing in Early Christianity

A minister is not a Levite priest—we are not one of the tribes of Israel. Therefore, we are not required to give a tithe of our income to them. This practice was part of the old covenant. In modern times, since the founding of the church, Christians have continued to gather in homes for worship. Instead of a tithe, they gave free offerings. These offerings were not used to buy land, build parking lots, pay for cathedral mortgages, or cover insurance costs. Instead, they were used to support widows, orphans, and slaves who had no income. The money helped with good works, providing food, clothing, and essentials for those in prison.

Support for Imprisoned Believers in Early Christianity

In the first century, if someone was imprisoned, the prison did not provide for their daily needs. If friends or family did not supply food, the prisoner would go hungry. The Roman government offered no food to those incarcerated. The Apostle Paul often found himself in prison, and of all the churches he founded, the only one that sent him an offering to help feed him was the Philippian church. The others refused to help him. In one of his letters, Paul mentioned needing a coat that he had left behind at one of the house churches, highlighting that he was cold in prison. Likewise, William Tyndale, in the 16th century, wrote from prison that he was in need of a coat and was constantly cold. The church in Corinth—a wealthy congregation—neglected to visit Paul or send money for food or even a coat. The Philippians, however, came to his aid by sending someone with money to help him.

The True Purpose of Offerings

This is what offerings were meant for: to do good deeds, not to build parking lots, buildings, or luxurious houses for ministers. If you are not part of a house church and are living in a low-income situation, you may feel limited in your ability to do good work. I can relate to this struggle. I want to contribute positively, but I have to find creative ways to do so because I lack a community of others to share in funding good deeds.

Modern Church Buildings and Neglect of the Poor

Here in Arcadia, countless church buildings sit mostly empty every Sunday. Some may gather a dozen people at most, and they do give offerings—perhaps they consider these to be tithes. However, that money is typically used to pay mortgage loans, cover insurance, and replace roofs, leaving the church largely inactive in its support of the poor in DeSoto County. Imagine if all of these church buildings were sold and the proceeds were used to help the poor in our community. There would be sufficient funds to provide housing for every homeless person in this area. Which do you think aligns more with Christ's teachings: giving to support a building or using offerings to help widows, orphans, and the homeless?

Complicity in False Doctrine and Church Buildings

If you are attending an institutional church and giving your offerings, believing they are tithes, but the minister is delivering flawed teachings, you become complicit in that false doctrine. If he is teaching another gospel or promoting another Jesus, and you support him financially, you share in his errors. Contributing money to support a church building—what some refer to as the House of God—is rooted in an Old Testament concept. The House of God was the temple in Jerusalem, and a tax was collected specifically for it. A church building today is not the House of God. You can gather with others in your home. There is no need for a large building, a bank loan, special insurance, or parking lots.

Financial Resources and Supporting Ministry

It's important to evaluate how we allocate our financial resources within the church. While we shouldn't feel pressured to give excessive amounts of money to a pastor so he can purchase a large piece of land and build an extravagant house for his family, we also need to recognize the significance of supporting the ministry. After all, a laborer is worthy of his hire.

The Proper Use of Church Funds

However, the funds contributed shouldn't primarily enrich a 'pastor.' Instead, they should facilitate the spread of the gospel through the work of evangelists. Those who traveled received financial support, while elders who were stationary in the same city did not receive large sums of money. It's essential to note that the terms 'elder,' 'bishop,' and 'pastor' refer to the same office.

The elder, bishop, or pastor was required to work and make an income just like any other church member. The donations were not meant to provide the pastor with a salary or help with his home loan. It was anticipated that the pastor would be employed and support himself, just as all other members did.

Contributions were intended to assist traveling evangelists or those who had been imprisoned. However, anyone residing in a particular town and attending a single church was expected to be employed and provide for themselves. The donations were intended for widows and orphaned children, not for men who were capable of working and supporting themselves, like a pastor.

The Original Purpose of Offerings

In certain denominations, such as Eastern Orthodoxy and Roman Catholicism, bishops often reside in mansions or palaces. However, that is not the purpose for which offerings were intended. Offerings were intended to support essential needs—helping widows, orphans, and those lacking necessities such as clothing and food. Jesus specifically taught us to visit the sick and those in prison and to provide for them.

Collective Fruit Bearing Through Good Works

The purpose of the offerings was to do good works. In early house churches, regardless of a person's financial status—whether they were slaves or wealthy contributors—everyone was considered to be bearing fruit in God's eyes. Paul wrote to one house church, encouraging them to assist him during his imprisonment, stating that this would allow them to bear fruit.

Communal Support and Self-Sufficiency

When offerings are utilized to support people in need—such as widows, orphans, and people experiencing homelessness—that is truly bearing fruit. This was a communal effort, taking place on the first day of the week when the church would gather in a home to collect offerings. These offerings were intended to ensure that no one went without, especially in times of emergency. The church was self-sufficient, providing for its members without relying on the Roman government for support. There was no social safety net. If the church did not support widows, they would go hungry.

Modern Churches and Neglect of Community Needs

In contrast, many modern churches often collect tithes and offerings that primarily serve to maintain buildings, pay off mortgages, or fund church programs. Meanwhile, the poor and needy in the community are overlooked. The church building may be thriving, but the homeless are still going hungry and lack basic resources like water and shelter. It's a troubling reality that while we dress in our best clothes and attend beautiful church buildings, we might be neglecting those in real need, much like the church in Corinth ignored Paul while he was imprisoned.

Independent Churches and Potential for Greed

Many evangelical churches are independent and do not report to a larger governing body. This autonomy means that all incoming contributions remain within that local church. If a minister operates in an independent church with a modest congregation, they may benefit significantly from the tithes collected.

Signs of False Prophets and Proper Use of Church Funds

One sign of a false prophet is the motivation of greed—preaching for selfish financial gain. Suppose an institutional church does not share its resources beyond its walls and is solely focused on maintaining its physical structure, paying for insurance, and covering the salaries of its pastors. In that case, it can lead to a pastor and their family living comfortably, potentially even owning the largest house in the county. The Port Charlotte Independent Baptist church has only a couple hundred families attending, and their collective tithe has helped its minister essentially build a mansion for his family.

Advocating for House Churches and Collective Good Works

I suggest that we meet in houses and collect offerings, using those offerings to perform good works. The good deeds carried out by the house church should be ascribed to everyone in the group, whether they contributed just two mites, like the widow at the temple, or thousands of dollars. In heaven's eyes, everyone is considered to be producing good fruit by doing good, loving one another, visiting the sick, visiting those in prison, and caring for one another.

The Benefits of House Church Community

Imagine having a house church where you didn't need a retirement fund. When the time came, and you were no longer able to work, your house church would ensure all your needs were met. Picture having 30 or 35 people gathering in a home each week. For years, you supported the poor within your house church, and then, when you grew older and could no longer work, your house church would be there for you, taking care of your needs.

Living Without Worry in a House Church

What if you could live out the teachings of Jesus Christ without worrying about tomorrow? What if you didn't need to store up treasures on Earth for retirement? Instead of building bigger barns to hoard wealth for retirement, you could truly follow Christ's teachings, trusting that you wouldn't need to accumulate material wealth.

The House Church as the Ideal Model

I propose that the only way to fulfill Christ's commandments regarding money is through a house church. In an institutional church, it is every man for himself. The poor and the wealthy are left to fend for themselves; they are told they need bigger barns and to invest in the stock market for retirement.

Practical Application of House Church Principles

Let me explain how this works:

First, we follow Christ's commandment to sell all that we have and give it to the poor. Yes, this commandment is to be taken seriously, just as the early church did. Next, Paul taught that every man in the house church should have a job and take care of his household, as well as his widows. He stated that anyone who does not work should not eat. If a member of the house church refuses to work, the church should let him go hungry to encourage him to find a job.

Roles and Responsibilities in the House Church

Thus, every man is expected to have a job to support his family, including extended family members such as widows. Once he is supported, he should give offerings to the church in accordance with how God has prospered him. Some may prosper and be able to give more, while others, such as slaves with no income, may not be able to contribute financially. However, the house church would still meet the needs of those individuals so they would not go hungry; they might be working, but they weren't getting paid for their labor.

Common Sense and Community Living in Early Churches

The early church employed common sense—every person was to work, take care of their family, and live in their own home. They met from house to house, indicating that even those who had sold their houses and lands still had a place to live. They were not practicing communal living; everyone owned their own houses and had their jobs. When they gathered in a house, they were the church. The term "church" refers to the group of people who assemble, not the building itself.

The Purpose of Abundance in House Church Gatherings

As God prospered them, the abundance collected each week during the house church meetings was used for good works, with a priority on supporting widows and orphans.

Contrast modern giving practices: instead of using offerings exclusively for people with low incomes to do good works, the collected money is deposited into the minister's bank account, which in some cases may already contain millions of dollars.

May God's grace and peace be with you.

In Jesus Christ's name. Amen.
